

Job Description for Dhandho Holdings CFO

Chief Financial Officer for a $150 million private holding company that focuses on acquisitions of private companies. Must be able to work independently, be familiar with SEC filings and preferably have experience with taking a company public. It would be a plus if the individual has worked as an officer (for example in the capacity of CFO, Treasurer or Controller etc.) of a publicly traded business.

The position is based in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Candidate must be fluent in Spanish and English.

The CFO is responsible for all accounting, tax, portfolio valuation, financial reporting, investor reporting, and office operations for the firm. The individual will manage all external audit, tax and servicer relationships of the firm. The individual will be responsible for creating and maintaining all financial policies and procedures of the firm. The individual will assist with monitoring of portfolio company performance, investor relations, firm distributions.

Requirements:

- Experience required working in a corporate CFO position which involved managing banking relationships (ideally through a capital raising process), and/or interfacing directly with principals through an investment process
- Corporate transaction experience highly desirable (particularly with direct exposure to business diligence issues and post-acquisition responsibility)
- Experience working as CFO or Controller in a small/medium size company environment is preferred
- Prior experience working as a CFO or controller of a private equity/investment management firm is desirable, but not required
- Demonstrated analytical, accounting/financial, and communication skills
- Ability to develop strong relationships with a wide variety of audiences
- Written and oral communications skills are critical
- Ability to multi-task and work effectively in a small team, entrepreneurial environment is a must