CONFIDENTIAL PRIVATE OFFERING MEMORANDUM
DHANDHO HOLDINGS, L.P.

A Delaware Limited Partnership

---

This Confidential Private Offering Memorandum (this "Memorandum") describes the offer for sale of limited partner interests (the "Limited Partner Interests"), in Dhandho Holdings, L.P., a limited partnership organized under the laws of the State of Delaware (the "Fund").

The first closing of this offering (this "Offering") is scheduled for February 28, 2014 (the "Initial Closing"). Thereafter, the General Partner (as defined herein) will have the authority, acting in its sole discretion, to accommodate the admission of additional limited partners (collectively, the "Limited Partners") by holding an additional closing on April 30, 2014 (the "Second Closing," and together with the Initial Closing, each a "Closing"). Investors must submit payment of the full amount of their investment and a completed subscription agreement no later than the date of the Closing in which they intend to participate, unless the General Partner, acting in its sole discretion, elects to extend such deadline by up to five business days following such Closing.

Price: Each Limited Partner Interest corresponds to a number of "Units" which is determined based upon the dollar amount of the investment in the Fund by such Limited Partner and the Closing in which such Limited Partner Interest is acquired. Units will be priced at $10 each at the Initial Closing and $10.50 each at the Second Closing. Notwithstanding this difference in price, Units issued at the Second Closing will have the same rights, duties and privileges (economic and otherwise) as Units issued at the Initial Closing.

The General Partner has targeted raising between $35 million and $150 million from investors in this Offering. The minimum investment by each investor is $1 million for investors in the Initial Closing and $2 million for investors in the Second Closing. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to accept investments of lesser amounts.

THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED WITH OR APPROVED BY THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES AGENCY. THIS IS A PRIVATE OFFERING PURSUANT TO EXEMPTIONS PROVIDED BY SECTION 4(a)(2) OF THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE "SECURITIES ACT"), AND RULE 506 THEREUNDER, AND APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS. NEITHER THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION NOR ANY STATE AGENCY HAS PASSED UPON THE VALUE OF THESE SECURITIES, APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED THIS OFFERING, OR PASSED UPON THE ADEQUACY OR ACCURACY OF THIS MEMORANDUM. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

An investment in the Fund is speculative and intended only for experienced and sophisticated investors who have the financial ability and the willingness to accept the risk characteristics of the type of investments proposed to be made by the Fund and who meet the suitability standards set forth in this Memorandum.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THIS MEMORANDUM HAS BEEN FURNISHED TO YOU ON A CONFIDENTIAL BASIS SOLELY IN CONNECTION WITH YOUR CONSIDERATION OF AN INVESTMENT IN LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS OF THE FUND. ACCEPTANCE OF THIS MEMORANDUM BY A PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR CONSTITUTES AN AGREEMENT TO BE BOUND BY THE FOLLOWING TERMS. DUE TO THE CONFIDENTIAL NATURE OF THIS MEMORANDUM, ITS USE FOR ANY OTHER PURPOSE MAY INVOLVE SERIOUS LEGAL CONSEQUENCES AND ANY REPRODUCTION OR DISTRIBUTION OF THIS MEMORANDUM, OR ANY OTHER DISCLOSURE OF ITS CONTENTS, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, WITHOUT THE PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT OF A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE FUND IS PROHIBITED. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING TO THE CONTRARY, THIS MEMORANDUM MAY BE SHARED WITH PERSONS DIRECTLY INVOLVED WITH A PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR'S DECISION REGARDING THE INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY OFFERED HEREBY, INCLUDING SUCH PERSONS PROVIDING LEGAL, TAX AND INVESTMENT ADVICE TO THE PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR WITH RESPECT TO AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND.

AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND INVOLVES SIGNIFICANT RISKS, INCLUDING THE RISK THAT THE INVESTORS MAY LOSE THEIR ENTIRE INVESTMENT IN THE FUND. PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD HAVE THE FINANCIAL ABILITY AND WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT THE RISKS THAT ARE CHARACTERISTIC OF THE INVESTMENT DESCRIBED HEREIN. IN MAKING AN INVESTMENT DECISION, A PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR MUST RELY ON HIS OWN EXAMINATION OF THE FUND AND THE TERMS OF THIS OFFERING, INCLUDING THE MERITS AND RISKS INVOLVED. NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND ARE INTENDED OR SHOULD BE INFERRED WITH RESPECT TO THE ECONOMIC RETURN FROM AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND NOR SHOULD A PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR CONSTRUE THIS MEMORANDUM AS LEGAL, FINANCIAL OR TAX ADVICE. THE PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN COUNSEL, ACCOUNTANTS AND OTHER ADVISORS FOR ADVICE CONCERNING THE VARIOUS LEGAL, FINANCIAL AND TAX CONSIDERATIONS RELATING TO AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND.

THIS MEMORANDUM DOES NOT CONSTITUTE AN OFFER TO SELL OR SOLICITATION TO PURCHASE IN ANY COUNTRY, STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION TO ANY PERSON OR ENTITY TO WHICH IT IS UNLAWFUL TO MAKE SUCH OFFER OR SOLICITATION IN SUCH JURISDICTION. EACH PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR SHOULD INFORM HIMSELF AS TO THE LEGAL REQUIREMENTS WITHIN HIS OWN JURISDICTION FOR THE PURCHASE OF LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS OF THE FUND AND APPLICABLE TAXATION AND SECURITIES LAWS.

THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS ARE SUBJECT TO RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFERABILITY AND RESALE AND MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED OR SOLD EXCEPT AS PERMITTED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AND APPLICABLE STATE AND FOREIGN SECURITIES LAWS PURSUANT TO REGISTRATION OR EXEMPTION THEREFROM. NOTWITHSTANDING THE GENERAL PARTNER'S AUTHORITY, ACTING IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION, TO COMPLETE A "REPORTING PERSON TRANSACTION," AS DEFINED IN THIS MEMORANDUM, THERE IS NO OBLIGATION ON THE PART OF ANY PERSON TO REGISTER ANY OF THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OR ANY STATE OR FOREIGN SECURITIES LAWS AND THERE WILL BE NO PUBLIC MARKET FOR THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS. IN ADDITION, LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS MAY NOT BE SOLD, ASSIGNED, HYPOTHECATED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, EXCEPT WITH THE CONSENT OF THE GENERAL PARTNER IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION. ACCORDINGLY, INVESTORS SHOULD BE AWARE THAT THEY MAY BE REQUIRED TO BEAR THE FINANCIAL RISKS OF THEIR INVESTMENT IN THE FUND FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD OF TIME.

NO PERSON, OTHER THAN THE GENERAL PARTNER AND ITS AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVES, HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED TO MAKE ANY REPRESENTATION, OR GIVE ANY INFORMATION, WITH RESPECT TO THE FUND, EXCEPT THE INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS MEMORANDUM, AND ANY INFORMATION OR REPRESENTATION NOT CONTAINED HEREIN OR OTHERWISE FURNISHED IN WRITING BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE GENERAL PARTNER SHOULD NOT BE RELIED UPON AS HAVING BEEN SO AUTHORIZED.

PURPOSES OF THIS MEMORANDUM, WHENEVER THE CONTEXT REQUIRES, THE MASCULINE GENDER SHALL INCLUDE THE FEMININE AND NEUTER GENDERS; THE FEMININE GENDER SHALL INCLUDE THE MASCULINE AND NEUTER GENDERS; AND THE NEUTER GENDER SHALL INCLUDE MASCULINE AND FEMININE GENDERS.

A PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR SHOULD NOT SUBSCRIBE FOR ANY INVESTMENT IN THE FUND UNLESS SATISFIED THAT HE AND HIS INVESTMENT REPRESENTATIVE HAVE ASKED FOR AND RECEIVED ALL INFORMATION WHICH WOULD ENABLE HIM OR BOTH OF THEM TO EVALUATE THE MERITS AND RISKS OF THE PROPOSED INVESTMENT. THE FUND WILL MAKE AVAILABLE TO THE PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR OR HIS INVESTMENT REPRESENTATIVE OR AGENT, DURING THIS OFFERING AND PRIOR TO THE SALE OF ANY INVESTMENT IN THE FUND, THE OPPORTUNITY TO ASK QUESTIONS OF AND RECEIVE ANSWERS FROM AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FUND CONCERNING ANY ASPECT OF THIS OFFERING AND TO OBTAIN ANY ADDITIONAL RELATED INFORMATION TO THE EXTENT THE FUND POSSESSES SUCH INFORMATION OR CAN ACQUIRE IT WITHOUT UNREASONABLE EFFORT OR EXPENSE.

THIS MEMORANDUM CONTAINS SUMMARIES OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF DOCUMENTS THAT WILL GOVERN THE AFFAIRS OF THE FUND AND THE CONDUCT OF ITS PROPOSED OPERATIONS. WHILE THE FUND BELIEVES THE SUMMARIES ARE FAIR AND ACCURATE, THE SUMMARIES DO NOT PURPORT TO BE COMPLETE AND ARE QUALIFIED IN THEIR ENTIRETY BY REFERENCE TO THE TEXTS OF THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS, EACH OF WHICH WILL BE FURNISHED, UPON REQUEST, TO EACH PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR PRIOR TO ANY SUCH INVESTOR MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND. STATEMENTS IN THIS MEMORANDUM ARE MADE AS OF THE DATE OF THE INITIAL DISTRIBUTION OF THIS MEMORANDUM, UNLESS STATED OTHERWISE HEREIN, AND THE DELIVERY OF THE MEMORANDUM AT ANY TIME SHALL NOT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES CREATE AN IMPLICATION THAT THE INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS CORRECT AS OF ANY TIME SUBSEQUENT TO SUCH DATE.

CERTAIN INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS MEMORANDUM CONSTITUTES "FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS" WHICH CAN BE IDENTIFIED BY THE USE OF FORWARD-LOOKING TERMINOLOGY SUCH AS "MAY," "WILL," "SHOULD," "EXPECT," "ANTICIPATE," "PROJECT," "ESTIMATE," "INTEND," "CONTINUE," "TARGET," "BELIEVE," THE NEGATIVES THEREOF, OTHER VARIATIONS THEREON, OR COMPARABLE TERMINOLOGY. DUE TO VARIOUS RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES, INCLUDING THOSE SET FORTH HEREIN IN "RISK FACTORS" AND "POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITIES," ACTUAL EVENTS OR RESULTS OR THE ACTUAL PERFORMANCE OF THE FUND MAY DIFFER MATERIALLY FROM WHAT IS REFLECTED OR CONTEMPLATED IN SUCH FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS.

EXCEPT AS REQUIRED UNDER APPLICABLE LAW, WE DO NOT HAVE ANY INTENTION OR OBLIGATION TO UPDATE ANY STATEMENTS AFTER THE DATE OF THIS MEMORANDUM, WHETHER AS A RESULT OF NEW INFORMATION, FUTURE EVENTS, CHANGES IN ASSUMPTIONS, OR OTHERWISE.

THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS ARE BEING OFFERED SUBJECT TO THE RIGHT OF THE FUND TO REJECT ANY SUBSCRIPTION IN WHOLE OR IN PART FOR ANY REASON IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION. THIS OFFERING OF THE LIMITED PARTNER INTERESTS MAY BE TERMINATED AT ANY TIME BY THE FUND.

INTRODUCTORY LETTER FROM MOHNISH PABRAI
An "Owner's Manual" for Dhandho Holdings, L.P. ("Dhandho")

Dear Potential Investor in Dhandho Holdings:

While I strongly encourage you to read all the offering and legal documents carefully before you make a decision on investing, I wrote this document to help you better understand Dhandho. Reading this document is not a substitute for reading the legal docs.

This owner's manual was inspired by Berkshire Hathaway's Owner's Manual and Google's Owner's Manual (from the Google S-1 before Google went public). While the core principles listed here are timeless, this manual will go through updates as we progress from a start-up Limited Partnership (LP) to a funded LP to a public company.

The very first question that likely arises in your mind is why would I want to create this new entity or raise capital. Pabrai Funds has almost $700 million in assets under management. We are acquiring an insurance company valued at under $40 million. Why not do this inside Pabrai Funds? The primary reasons for the new entity, Dhandho Holdings, are:

1. Pabrai Funds has a mandate to invest only in publicly traded equities (stocks) and bonds. It cannot buy private businesses. Thus it cannot purchase the business I have an interest in acquiring. I could have pursued amendments/side pockets etc., but that is not the type of ride/entity many Pabrai Funds' investors signed up for. Better to keep the vehicles separate and distinct.

2. I have had an interest for well over a decade in owning/controlling a high quality "float engine." Property and Casualty Insurers represent the biggest category of float generators. Float is cash held by an insurance company to be paid out as claims are settled in the months, years and decades ahead.

   A well-run insurance operation will, on average, over the long term, generate underwriting profits. Thus, the float that it holds has a less than zero cost. This float can be invested in a variety of ways and gains on these investments represent an additional source of profitability. A well-run insurance operation is paid to hold other peoples' money. Even the very best run bank does not have such an advantage. Float is not an asset owned by any insurance company. However, the benefits (or costs) of holding that float accrue fully to the insurer.

3. While there are several regulations and guidelines by rating agencies on how float can be invested, most insurance companies – even good ones – are, at best, good at underwriting, but mediocre to sub-par on investing. Some examples of insurers that are great at investing and underwriting are Berkshire Hathaway, Markel and Fairfax Financial. For all of these three businesses, quite a significant portion of shareholder gains were purely generated from their float engines. I believe Dhandho is a great vehicle to own one or more high-quality insurers. My primary competency is investing and capital allocation and a potentially permanent vehicle like Dhandho is ideal to own high-quality insurance operations.

4. The insurer we hope to acquire will see its financial strength improve considerably once it is owned by Dhandho. And over time, as Dhandho acquires more insurance and non-insurance businesses, this financial strength is likely to continue to improve. Thus it is a win-win for its policy holders, its claimants, its present owners as well as shareholders of Dhandho. The entire ecosystem benefits from this acquisition.

Thus Pabrai Funds and Dhandho will co-exist and both will be managed by yours truly. These are distinctly different vehicles, but there is some overlap and potential conflict of interest. Both Dhandho and Pabrai Funds can (and will) invest in marketable securities. In the purchase or sale of marketable securities, Pabrai Funds will always go first. After its appetite is fully satisfied, then Dhandho would start its buying or selling. Going first is sometimes an advantage and sometimes a disadvantage. With this sequential, rule based approach, the conflict is mostly eliminated. I have followed similar sequencing between the three Pabrai Funds for the last 10+ years and it has worked out quite satisfactorily.

Dhandho is a word from the Indian language of Gujarati. A literal translation is simply "business." However, Dhandho implies a savvy approach to business so that a better translation is "Endeavors that create wealth." And we certainly have ambitions to beat the S&P 500 over the long haul and create meaningful wealth in the coming decades for Dhandho shareholders.

Dhandho Holdings, LP has started life as a Delaware-based Limited Partnership formed in December, 2013.

I hope to raise $35-150 million by April 30, 2014 from a set of high net worth individuals, most of whom have been long-term investors in Pabrai Investment Funds. The minimum investment for completed subscriptions and funds received by February 28th, 2014 is $1 million and the price per unit is $10. Our second closing is on April 30, 2014. The minimum investment for the second closing is $2 million and the price per unit rises by 5% to $10.50. It is advantageous to invest by February 28, 2014. Towards this end, my family and I will invest at least $9 million in this venture on or before February 28, 2014.

If we do not raise at least $35 million, we will not be able to complete the proposed insurance company acquisition. In that case, we will return funds to all investors (less expenses). I view this as a very low probability outcome.

After we have raised the minimum $35 million, we will focus on closing the acquisition at the earliest. The acquisition has a few wrinkles, including being a mutual insurance company. The transaction is subject to a variety of regulatory approvals including the Department of Insurance in the state it is domiciled. The company name is confidential until we have closed the transaction. In my opinion, the odds of not completing the transaction are also quite low. It is a friendly acquisition and all parties see a win-win with Dhandho's acquisition.

After the acquisition is completed, I intend to pursue getting Dhandho Holdings listed on the Nasdaq Capital Markets, OTC Bulletin Board or similar exchange. We intend to pursue an initial public offering at the time of our listing. Pabrai Investment Funds cannot invest in private businesses. Assuming pricing is reasonable, it intends to participate in the IPO with about $70 million or more. We hope to raise $70-100 million in the IPO. If no other investors participate, then the IPO would raise $70 million. And if there is sufficient interest, Dhandho will raise up to $100 million. We hope to get listed as a public company sometime in 2015. Going public usually is unpredictable because raising capital in public markets is subject to the whims of the market. However, in our case, we do not need to raise any capital (and the $70 million from Pabrai Funds is virtually guaranteed). Thus I see the odds of not going public also as very low.

In the very rare scenario where we raise the capital, but cannot complete the acquisition, we have 2 years to complete any acquisition whose economics make sense to me. If we cannot find a suitable acquisition in 2 years, the funds will be returned to the investors (less expenses).

And finally, in the even rarer scenario where we raise the capital, acquire the business, but are unable to go public on any exchange of interest, Dhandho will function as a private equity vehicle with a ten-year life. I view this scenario as very remote as we have a range of options on bulletin boards and potential exchanges to list on and do not need to raise any capital at the time of listing.

To sum up, Pabrai Funds and Dhandho, while having some overlap, are radically different investment vehicles. Both endeavor to beat the market by meaningful margins over the long term – however, they will pursue this common objective in different ways with substantially different assets. Pabrai Funds is likely to put 10% of its assets into Dhandho Holdings at the first available opportunity. So, investors in Pabrai Funds are likely to end up with some exposure to Dhandho, however, that exposure may be relatively small for most investors compared to a direct investment in Dhandho Holdings. At the outset, I had invested $100,000 in Pabrai Funds – and have made no subsequent investment other than retained performance fees and retirement plan contributions. My family is investing over 10% of its net worth into Dhandho. Indeed, I am putting every available dollar into Dhandho as I very much like its future prospects.

I would also like to encourage you to read the Dhandho Owner's Manual. Please feel free to call me at +1949.453.0609 or email me if I can be of any service.

Happy Dhandho Investing!

Sincerely,

Mohnish Pabrai
Managing Member of Dalal Street, LLC, the General Partner of Dhandho Holdings, L.P.

SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL TERMS

The following is a summary of the principal terms of Dhandho Holdings, L.P. (the "Fund"). This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the more detailed information contained elsewhere in this Memorandum and by the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Fund (the "Partnership Agreement") and the subscription agreement (the "Subscription Agreement") relating to the purchase of limited partner interests in the Fund (the "Limited Partner Interests"), copies of which are included as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively, at the end of this Memorandum.

| The Fund | Dhandho Holdings, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the "Fund"). |
| The General Partner | Dalal Street, LLC, a Texas limited liability company (the "General Partner"). The General Partner is an investment adviser registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act"), as amended. The General Partner is controlled by Mohnish Pabrai. The General Partner will have overall responsibility for the management of the Fund and will provide portfolio management and administrative services to the Fund, including, but not limited to, investigating, analyzing, structuring and negotiating potential investments, monitoring Portfolio Company Acquisitions (as defined below) and advising the Fund as to disposition opportunities. The General Partner will be paid the Management Fee described below. |
| Size of the Fund | The General Partner has targeted raising between $35 million and $150 million from investors in this offering (this "Offering"). |
| Closings | The first closing of this Offering (the "Initial Closing") is scheduled for February 28, 2014. Thereafter, the General Partner will have the authority, acting in its sole discretion and without the need to obtain the consent from any Limited Partners (its "Sole Discretion"), to accommodate the admission of additional limited partners (collectively, the "Limited Partners," and together with the General Partner, the "Partners") by holding an additional closing on April 30, 2014 (the "Second Closing," and together with the Initial Closing, each a "Closing"). Investors must submit payment of the full amount of their investment and a completed Subscription Agreement no later than the date of the Closing in which they intend to participate, unless the General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, elects to extend such deadline by up to five business days following such Closing. |
| Unit Pricing | Each Limited Partner Interest corresponds to a number of "Units" which is determined based upon the dollar amount of the investment in the Fund by such Limited Partner and the Closing in which such Limited Partner Interest is acquired. Units will be priced at $10 each at the Initial Closing and $10.50 each at the Second Closing. Notwithstanding this difference in price, Units issued at the Second Closing will have the same rights, duties and privileges (economic and otherwise) as Units issued at the Initial Closing. |
| Minimum Investment | The minimum investment is $1 million for investors in the Initial Closing and $2 million for investors in the Second Closing. The General Partner, in its Sole Discretion, reserves the right to accept investments of lesser amounts. |

Investments by Affiliates of the General Partner

Mr. Pabrai together with members of his family and certain entities which they control or are beneficiaries of (collectively, the "Affiliated Investors") currently intend to invest an aggregate of at least $9.0 million in this Offering. The Affiliated Investors may invest additional amounts in this Offering to the extent funds become available to them prior to the last Closing. In consideration for such investments, the Affiliated Investors will be issued Limited Partner Interests that have the same per Unit price and rights, duties and privileges (economic and otherwise) as other Limited Partners who invest in the applicable Closing. Notwithstanding the foregoing to the contrary, as described below in "—Fund Stage III The Reporting Person Transaction" and "—Transfers and Withdrawals," the Partnership Agreement provides that, if the General Partner exercises its authority to reorganize the Fund into a corporation that is taxable as a corporation rather than a partnership and to cause such successor entity to become a "reporting person" under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), the Affiliated Investors would receive (i) a special class of convertible high-vote "Class B Common Stock" entitled to 30 times the voting power per share as the "Common Stock" issued to investors who are not Affiliated Investors; and (ii) certain rights to cause the successor entity to register for resale under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), at the successor entity's expense, the Common Stock into which the Affiliated Investors' Class B Common Stock may be subsequently converted.

Suitability

Limited Partner Interests may be beneficially owned by up to 100 eligible investors in accordance with Section 3(c)(1) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), who are "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act and "qualified clients" within the meaning of Rule 205-3 under the Advisers Act. An investment in the Fund involves significant risks and is suitable only for investors that can bear the economic risk of the loss of their investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its objectives. An investment in the Fund is illiquid and carries with it the inherent risks associated with investments in securities as well as additional risks. A prospective investor should carefully review this Memorandum, including the risk factors described in "Risk Factors" below before deciding to invest in the Fund.

Investment Objectives

The General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, will seek to earn above market returns and long-term appreciation by investing the Fund's cash, subject to certain limitations described below in "—Fund Stage I The Initial Acquisition Period" and "—Fund Stage II The Investment Period," in:

- leveraged and unleveraged controlling interests ("Portfolio Company Acquisitions") consisting of at least a majority of the voting securities or assets of one or more privately held businesses (each, a "Portfolio Company");

- follow-on investments relating to Portfolio Companies including, but not limited to, loans and equity contributions to, and/or purchases of additional equity interests in, Portfolio Companies ("Follow-On Investments");

- equity securities of U.S. and/or non-U.S. publicly traded companies including private investments in public equities and other non-marketable securities (collectively, "Public Company Equity Securities");

- short-term instruments including, but not limited to, U.S. government treasury bills, money market funds, commercial paper, bank certificates of deposit and similar investments (collectively "Short- Term Investments"); and/or

- all other types of equity and debt securities including common and preferred stock, debt securities convertible into common or preferred stock or other types of securities, bonds, notes, zero coupon bonds, fixed income securities, options and investment company securities ("Other Investments," and together with Portfolio Company Acquisitions, Follow-On Investments, investments in Public Company Equity Securities and Other Investments, each an "Investment").

The General Partner may also cause the Portfolio Companies to invest their cash in Investments subject to any laws and regulations applicable to the industries in which such Portfolio Companies operate. In addition, the General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, will have the authority to make divestitures of any Investments of the Fund or any Portfolio Company (each, a "Divestiture"). The General Partner also has the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to (i) issue additional Limited Partnership Interests in consideration for some or all of the purchase price for Portfolio Company Acquisitions and/or Follow-On Investments; and (ii) set the prices for such additional Limited Partnership Interests in good faith.

The General Partner has identified the following general criteria and guidelines that its believes are important in evaluating prospective Portfolio Company Acquisitions. The General Partner will use these criteria and guidelines in evaluating acquisition opportunities, but may decide to enter into a Portfolio Company Acquisition with a target business that does not meet these criteria and guidelines.

- Companies with Potential for Strong Free Cash Flow Generation. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have the potential to generate strong and stable free cash flow. The General Partner will focus on one or more businesses that have predictable, recurring revenue streams and low working capital and capital expenditure requirements.

- Strong Competitive Industry Position. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have strong fundamentals, including growth prospects, competitive dynamics, level of consolidation, need for capital investment and barriers to entry.

- Business with Revenue and Earnings Growth Potential. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have the potential for revenue and earnings growth through a combination of expense reduction, synergistic follow-on acquisitions and the investment of free cash.

- Business with Experienced and Motivated Management. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses with experienced management teams that have strong track records, have achieved superior performance and have a substantial personal economic stake in the performance of the acquired business.

- Distressed Businesses and Assets. The General Partner may seek to acquire distressed businesses or assets. Although such businesses may not be generating much cash flow (or may even be losing money), the General Partner may determine that the intrinsic value of such businesses or assets could be worth considerably more than the purchase price. Such businesses and assets would likely involve additional efforts and risks to unlock the intrinsic value.

These criteria are not intended to be exhaustive. Any evaluation relating to the merits of a particular Portfolio Company Acquisition may be based, to the extent relevant, on these general guidelines as well as other considerations, factors and criteria that the General Partner may deem relevant.

The objectives set forth above are referred to in this Memorandum as the "Investment Objectives." There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve the Investment Objectives.

Term

Absent amendment of the Partnership Agreement extending the duration of the Fund or the events described below, the term of the Fund (the "Term") will end on the tenth anniversary of the Initial Closing; provided, however, that (i) the Term will expire on April 1, 2016 if the Fund has not completed its Initial Acquisition (as defined below in "—Fund Stage I The Initial Acquisition Period") on or before March 31, 2016 (the "Initial Acquisition Deadline"); (ii) the General Partner shall have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to extend the Term by up to two consecutive one-year extension periods if the Initial Acquisition is completed prior to the Initial Acquisition Deadline; and (iii) the Term will cease to apply if the Reporting Person Transaction (as defined below in "—Fund Stage III The Reporting Person Transaction") occurs. Effective November 16, 2020, the Partnership Agreement was amended to change the term to perpetual.

Regardless of the specified Term, the Fund will be terminated upon (i) voluntary resignation or withdrawal of the General Partner or adjudication of bankruptcy or insolvency of the General Partner; (ii) the affirmative vote to end the Term of the Fund by 75% in interest of the Limited Partners within 90 days of the Advisory Board's finding of Disabling Conduct (as defined below in "— Disabling Conduct by the General Partner"); (iii) the election by the General Partner, upon sixty days' prior notice to the Limited Partners, to dissolve the Fund; (iv) the continued conduct of the Fund's business becoming unlawful; or (v) the order of dissolution by a court of competent jurisdiction or upon any recognized process of dissolution as provided for by the laws of the State of Delaware.

Fund Stage I
The Initial

The Fund will have until March 31, 2016 (i.e., the Initial Acquisition Deadline) to acquire a controlling interest consisting of at least 60% of the voting equity securities or assets of a privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million (the "Initial Acquisition").

The General Partner is already in advanced negotiations to pursue the Initial Acquisition of a U.S.-based insurance company (the "Identified Potential Target Company"). However, the General Partner does not intend to disclose the name or financial condition of the Identified Potential Target Company before completing this Offering, and so prospective investors will be unable to ascertain the merits or risks of the Identified Potential Target Company's operations. Due to the current structure of the Identified Potential Target Company, any such acquisition would require (i) conducting a demutualization process, which would be overseen by, and require the approval of, the insurance commissioner of the state in the which the insurance company is formed; and (ii) acquiring both the demutualized insurance company and the separate management company.

If the General Partner is not successful in acquiring the Identified Potential Target Company or otherwise chooses not to pursue such transaction, the General Partner may, in its Sole Discretion, conduct the Initial Acquisition with any privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million regardless of its sector, industry or geographic location. At all times prior to the completion of the Initial Acquisition, the proceeds from this Offering (other than Organizational Expenses, Other Expenses and the Management Fees — each as defined below) will be held in deposit accounts and/or invested in Short-Term Investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve the Initial Acquisition prior to the Initial Acquisition Deadline.

If the Fund does not complete the Initial Acquisition by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will (i) promptly liquidate the Fund and distribute its assets to the Partners in accordance with "—Distributions" below after satisfying the Fund's liabilities and providing for the cost of dissolution and reserves for unliquidated liabilities; and (ii) give each Limited Partner the option to invest all (but not less than all) of the amounts distributable to it toward the purchase of limited partnership interests, at then current prices and subject to satisfying reasonable conditions and signing customary documents, of Pabrai Investment Fund 4, L.P. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are U.S. taxpayers) or Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are tax-exempt or non-U.S. persons). Any decision by a Limited Partner of the Fund to so invest in a Pabrai Investment Fund would be entirely the investment decision and responsibility of such Limited Partner, and none of the Covered Persons (as defined below in "—Exculpation and Indemnification") will assume any risk, responsibility or expense, or be deemed to have provided any advice or recommendation, in connection therewith.

Fund Stage II The Investment Period

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will thereafter have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to make additional Investments and Divestitures from time to time through and until the sixth anniversary of the Initial Closing (the "Investment Period"). After the end of the Investment Period, the General Partner will not be permitted to make additional Investments, except for (i) completing Investments that were already in progress as of the end of the Investment

Period; (ii) Short-Term Investments; (iii) Public Company Equity Securities; and (iv) Follow-On Investments. Notwithstanding the foregoing to the contrary, the investment restrictions applicable during and following the end of the Investment Period will not apply if the Reporting Person Transaction (as defined in the next paragraph) occurs.

Fund Stage III The Reporting Person Transaction

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will thereafter also have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, until January 1, 2019 to reorganize the Fund (the "Reorganization") into a corporation that is taxable as a corporation rather than a partnership (the "Successor Company") and cause the common stock of the Successor Company ("Common Stock") to be registered under the Securities Act and/or the Exchange Act (such registration together with the Reorganization, collectively, the "Reporting Person Transaction"). The purpose of the Reporting Person Transaction would be to convert the Fund into a permanent capital vehicle and facilitate private secondary re-sales of Limited Partner Interests, subject to the requirements of Rule 144 under the Securities Act ("Rule 144") and other federal and state securities laws. The General Partner will have the authority in its Sole Discretion to select the structure for the Reporting Person Transaction and may conduct a self-filing or traditional underwritten initial public offering (i.e., an IPO). In addition, the Reporting Person Transaction may, in the Sole Discretion of the General Partner, include a concurrent direct placement of up to $100 million to one or more affiliates of the General Partner. The General Partner has not entered into discussion with any underwriters regarding the feasibility of conducting an underwritten public offering in connection with the Reporting Person Transaction.

If the Reorganization occurs, the Partnership Agreement provides for (i) the Limited Partner Interests held by Limited Partners who are not Affiliated Investors (collectively, the "Unaffiliated Partner Interests") to be converted into Common Stock of the Successor Company; and (ii) the Limited Partner Interests held by Affiliated Investors together with the General Partner's Carried Interest as defined below in "—Distributions" (collectively, the "Affiliated Partner Interests") to be converted into "Class B Common Stock" of the Successor Company. As a result of the foregoing, the Partners of the Fund would become the stockholders of the Successor Company. The Class B Common Stock would be entitled to 30 votes per share (whereas the Common Stock would only be entitled to one vote per share) and would be convertible at any time, in each holder's sole discretion, into Common Stock on a share-for-share basis. In addition, the organizational documents of the Successor Company would include appropriate protective provisions determined by the General Partner acting in good faith including restrictions on an amendments that would increase the rights of the Common Stock or decrease or impair the rights of the Class B Common Stock, in either case, without the approval of a majority of Class B Common Stock outstanding. Except for the differences in voting power and conversion rights set forth above, shares of the Common Stock and Class B Common Stock would have identical rights and privileges. The Partnership Agreement provides that the number of shares of Common Stock and Class B Common Stock issued in the Reorganization would be proportionate to the dollar amount of distributions that the Partners would be entitled to receive in a hypothetical dissolution of the Fund. The Successor Company's charter and bylaws would provide for a staggered board of directors and such other provisions as the General Partner determines in its Sole Discretion acting in good faith.

There is no market for our securities and a market for the securities of the Successor Company may not develop following the Reporting Person Transaction. We anticipate that, if the Reporting Person Transaction occurs, the Common Stock would initially be quoted on the OTCBB, the OTCQX or the NASDAQ Capital Market. Subsequently, we may seek to list on a national securities exchange subject to satisfying such exchange's initial listing requirements. There can be no assurance that the Fund will ever achieve the Reporting Person Transaction or be listed on a national securities exchange.

By signing the Partnership Agreement, each investor agrees that, for a period of 365 days after the completion of the Reporting Person Transaction, or such longer period as the General Partner may reasonably request, it will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Common Stock, Class B Common Stock or any other equity securities of the Successor Company without the prior written consent of the General Partner in its Sole Discretion (the "Lock-Up Commitments").

Following the Reporting Person Transaction, it is contemplated that Mr. Pabrai or his designee would serve as the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Successor Company and receive a salary of $100,000 per year and that Mr. Pabrai or the General Partner would enter into an arrangement with the Successor Company that provides for an incentive bonus every five years equal to 10% of the amount, if any, by which the book value of the Successor Company exceeds the level that would have been achieved assuming a growth rate equal to the actual performance of the S&P 500 index during the applicable five-year period. Such incentive bonus would be payable in cash and/or shares of Class B Common Stock, at Mr. Pabrai's option. The Successor Company would structure the incentive bonus to make it tax efficient for Mr. Pabrai or the General Partner, as applicable.

Co-Investment Opportunities

The Fund may provide co-investment opportunities to certain Limited Partners and/or third parties but need not make such investment opportunities available to all Limited Partners pro rata or on a uniform basis. In addition, the Fund may from time to time make Portfolio Company Acquisitions through joint ventures or other similar arrangements with other investment funds or third parties. Any participation by a Limited Partner in a Portfolio Company Acquisition other than through the Fund will be entirely the investment decision and responsibility of such Limited Partner, and neither the General Partner nor any of its affiliates will assume any risk, responsibility or expense, or be deemed to have provided any advice or recommendation, in connection therewith.

Leverage

The Fund may incur indebtedness, guarantee the indebtedness of Portfolio Companies it acquires or otherwise employ leverage to enhance returns. Such borrowings may be collateralized by the assets of the Fund and/or any Portfolio Companies it acquires.

Distributions

The General Partner may, but is not obligated to, cause the Fund to make distributions to the Partners before the dissolution of the Fund at such times and in such amounts as it determines in its Sole Discretion. The General Partner does not expect to cause the Fund to make distributions to the Partners before the dissolution of the Fund. All distributions to the Partners, except as described below in "—Tax Distributions," will be made in the following order and priority:

1. Return of Capital: First, 100% to the Partners (pro rata in accordance with their respective capital contributions to the Fund) until the cumulative amount distributed to the Partners equals the sum of their respective capital contributions to the Fund; and

2. 90/10 Split: Thereafter, (i) 90% to the Partners (pro rata in accordance with their respective Units in the Fund); and (ii) 10% to the General Partner (the distributions to the General Partner described in clause (ii) of this paragraph being referred to as the General Partner's "Carried Interest").

Any distributions before the dissolution of the Fund will be made in cash or marketable securities at their fair market value. Upon dissolution of the Fund, and subject to applicable law, distributions may also include restricted securities or other assets of the Fund which will be valued in accordance with the valuation procedure specified in the Partnership Agreement.

Effective April 21, 2021, the General Partner decided to permanently waive its collection of Carried Interest from the Partnership and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser. L.P. This waiver does not impact at all the General Partner's right to and ownership of its share of pro-rata carried interest earned by Dhandho Funds, LLC by virtue of the General Partner's look-through ownership of Dhandho Funds, LLC.

Tax Distributions

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in "—Distributions" above, the General Partner may, but is not obligated to, cause the Fund to make distributions to itself and/or certain other Partners to satisfy its and/or their estimated tax liabilities with respect to their respective shares of the Fund's taxable income and gain.

Allocations of Profits and Losses

Profits and losses of the Fund will be allocated among Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which distributions will be made as described above and with the requirements of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Partners may be allocated income or gain for U.S. income tax purposes without a corresponding cash distribution.

Management Fee

In addition to the Carried Interest, the General Partner will receive an annual management fee (the "Management Fee") from the Fund beginning on the date of the Initial Closing and ending on the earlier to occur of (i) the final dissolution of the Fund; and (ii) the completion of the Reporting Person Transaction. The General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, will set the amount of the Management Fee annually in an amount not to exceed 1% of the total proceeds from this Offering per year. The Management Fee is intended to cover the costs and expenses (including staff salaries) of the General Partner incurred in connection with the management of the Fund although no specific accounting of such costs and expenses will be made and it is possible that the Management Fee will exceed such actual costs and expenses. If the General Partner or its affiliates receive directors' fees, consulting and/or advisory fees from Portfolio Companies, an amount equal to 100% of all such fees will be applied to reduce the Management Fee otherwise payable.

Liability of Limited Partners

The General Partner may require the Limited Partners to return certain distributions (not to exceed 25% of the aggregate distributions received by each Limited Partner) for the purpose of satisfying the Fund's indemnification obligations described below in "—Exculpation and Indemnification." Notwithstanding the foregoing, Limited Partners will not be obligated to return any distribution after the third anniversary of the date of such distribution, unless the General Partner has notified the Limited Partners before the end of such three-year period of any pending or outstanding proceedings or claims which might require the Limited Partners to return such amounts.

Organizational Expenses

The Fund will bear all legal and other expenses incurred in connection with the formation of the Fund and this Offering.

Advisory Board

The General Partner will establish an Advisory Board of the Fund initially consisting of Navneet S. Chugh, Terry Adams and Srini Pulavarti. The Advisory Board will meet as required to (i) consult with the General Partner as to potential conflicts of interest for which the General Partner chooses to seek the Advisory Board's approval, if any; (ii) make certain determinations for which it is responsible as described elsewhere in this Memorandum; and (iii) provide such other advice and counsel as may be requested by the General Partner from time to time. See "Advisory Board" below. Subject to applicable law, the Fund will indemnify the members of the Advisory Board for their services as such and will reimburse the members for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred while acting in such capacity (and any other compensation that may be approved by the General Partner acting in its Sole Discretion).

Other Expenses

The Fund will pay all costs, expenses and liabilities in connection with its operations, including: fees, costs and expenses related to consummated and unconsummated Investments and Divestitures; taxes; fees and expenses of accountants, counsel and administrators; costs and expenses of the Advisory Board and an annual meeting or other meetings of the Partners and the Advisory Board; litigation expenses; insurance coverage; indemnification obligations; brokerage commissions; custodial fees; bank service fees; interest on margin accounts and other indebtedness, if any; and all other expenses incurred by the Fund.

Potential Conflicts of Interest and Fiduciary Responsibilities

As described further below in "Potential Conflicts of Interest & Fiduciary Responsibilities—Potential Conflicts of Interest," potential conflicts of interest exist and may arise in the future as a result of the relationships between the General Partner and its affiliates on the one hand, and the Fund or any other Partners, on the other hand. Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner will not be in breach of its obligations under the Partnership Agreement or its duties to the Fund or the Limited Partners if the resolution of the conflict is:

- approved by the Advisory Board, although the General Partner is not obligated to seek such approval; or

- on terms that the General Partner, acting in good faith, determines are no less favorable to the Fund than those generally being provided to or available from unrelated third parties; or

- on terms that the General Partner, acting in good faith, determines are fair and reasonable to the Fund, taking into account the totality of the relationships among the parties involved, including other transactions that may be particularly favorable or advantageous to the Fund.

Conflicts of interest could arise in the situations described below, among others:

The General Partner and its affiliates may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and activity between the Fund and other clients, in allocating investments among the Fund and other clients and in effecting transactions for the Fund and other clients, including ones in which the General Partner and its affiliates may have a greater financial interest.

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner or its principals or affiliates may be or may become associated with any other business venture or ventures of any nature and description, including, without limitation, (i) developing and managing other investment entities and engaging in investment management for others (including investment funds with investment objectives substantially similar to the Investment Objectives of the Fund); and (ii) businesses engaged in or anticipated to be engaged in by any Portfolio Company (including business interests and activities in direct competition with the business and activities of any Portfolio Company).

As described further below in "Potential Conflicts of Interest & Fiduciary Responsibilities—Fiduciary Duties," the Partnership Agreement also restricts the remedies available to Limited Partners for actions taken that without those limitations might constitute breaches of duty (including fiduciary duties). The Partnership Agreement modifies the duty of care and loyalty by providing that when the General Partner, in its capacity as the General Partner, is permitted to or required to make a decision in its "sole discretion" or "discretion," the General Partner will be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and will have no duty or obligation (fiduciary or otherwise) to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Fund or any Limited Partners and, subject to the non-waivable requirements under the Advisers Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, will not be subject to any different standards imposed by the Partnership Agreement, the Act or under any other law, rule or regulation or in equity. Hence, the Fund and the Limited Partners will only have recourse and be able to seek remedies against the General Partner if the General Partner breaches its obligations pursuant to the Partnership Agreement subject to applicable law.

Disabling Conduct by the General Partner

If the General Partner is found by the Advisory Board to have committed Disabling Conduct (as defined below), then 75% in interest of the Limited Partners may vote to end the Term of the Fund; provided, that such vote must occur no later than 90 days following the date the Advisory Board gives notice to the Limited Partners of its finding of Disabling Conduct. The term "Disabling Conduct" means: (i) the conviction of the General Partner of a felony that is reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Fund (or any Investment) or a crime of moral turpitude; or (ii) a final judicial decision on the

| | merits from which there is no further right to appeal that the General Partner or Mr. Pabrai committed fraud with respect to the Fund or a material willful breach of the terms of the Partnership Agreement. |
| Death or Disability of Mohnish Pabrai | If Mr. Pabrai dies or becomes permanently disabled (i.e., Mr. Pabrai has a physical or mental illness which has rendered him incapable of making investment decisions on behalf of the General Partner for an aggregate of 180 days during any period of twelve consecutive months as determined by a physician selected by Mr. Pabrai (or his representatives) and reasonably acceptable to the Advisory Board) during the Term, then control of the General Partner would automatically be transferred from Mohnish Pabrai to his designee. Mr. Pabrai currently anticipates that his designee in such an event would be Guy Spier. Guy Spier is the founder and Managing Partner of Aquamarine Fund (1997) an investment partnership inspired by, and styled after the original 1950's Buffett partnerships. Guy Spier previously worked at Braxton Associates in London & Paris from 1988 – 1990 and at the Forward Studies Unit of the European Commission in Brussels in 1991. Mr. Spier graduated from Oxford University (Brasenose College) with a MA, BA (Honors), first class in Politics, Philosophy & Economics in 1988. He received his MBA from Harvard Business School in 1993. In June 2007, Mr. Spier and Mohnish Pabrai bid for and won a charity lunch with Warren Buffett. |
| Reports/Annual Meeting | Each investor will receive annually an audited year-end financial statement of the Fund with the first such report to cover the period from the Initial Closing through December 31, 2014. U.S. federal income tax information will be provided annually. The Fund will hold annual meetings to provide Limited Partners with the opportunity to review and discuss the Fund's investment activities with Mr. Pabrai. |
| Transfers and Withdrawals | Before the Reporting Person Transaction, (i) Partners may not sell, transfer or pledge their Limited Partner Interests; and (ii) Limited Partners may not withdraw from the Fund, in each case, except with the consent of the General Partner acting in its Sole Discretion. The General Partner reserves the right (but will not have any obligation) to enter into privately negotiated redemptions of Limited Partner Interests from Limited Partners.Following the Reporting Person Transaction and the expiration of any Lock-Up Commitments, Partners who are not "affiliates" of the Successor Company (generally investors who are less than 10% shareholders of the Successor Company and not members of the Successor Company's board of directors) would, subject to the requirements of Rule 144 and other federal and state securities laws, be able to freely transfer their investments to the extent they can find a willing buyer. The Affiliated Investors' ability to sell under Rule 144 will be limited. However, following the Reporting Person Transaction, the Affiliated Investors would have the right to require the Successor Company to register the Common Stock into which their shares of Class B Common Stock are convertible for re-sale under the Securities Act. The Successor Corporation would bear the costs and expenses of filing any such registration statements. |
| Exculpation and | To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the General Partner, the members of the Advisory Board, their respective affiliates, or their respective direct and |

| Indemnification | indirect owners, managers, members, shareholders, partners, directors, officers, employees, agents, advisors or personnel (each, a "Covered Person") will be liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners for any losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) (collectively, "Losses") suffered by the Fund as a result of any act or omission of any Covered Person, or for any breach of contract (including breach of the Partnership Agreement) or any breach of duties (including breach of fiduciary duties), unless it shall be determined by final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further right to appeal that, in respect of the matter in question, such Covered Person engaged in gross negligence or willful misconduct. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Fund will indemnify each Covered Person against all Losses incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (in each case, threatened or actual), to which such Covered Person may be or becomes subject by reason of such Covered Person's activities on behalf of the Fund, except to the extent that such Losses are determined to have resulted from such Covered Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Fund may pay the expenses incurred by any such Covered Person in defending any such proceeding in advance of the final disposition, provided such Covered Person undertakes to repay such expenses if it is, upon final judicial determination, not entitled to indemnification. |
| Parallel Funds | The General Partner may establish one or more parallel funds to accommodate the legal, tax, regulatory or investment requirements of certain investors. Any such parallel fund generally will invest side-by-side with the Fund in all portfolio investments on the basis of available capital, will contain terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Fund (except as necessary to accommodate such legal, tax, regulatory or investment requirements) and will be managed by the General Partner or an affiliate thereof. Any parallel fund will be responsible for its pro rata share of expenses. |

INVESTMENT OFFERING

The Fund is intended to qualify for the exemption provided for under Section 3(c)(1) of the Investment Company Act. Accordingly, the Limited Partnership Interests may not be beneficially owned by more than 100 investors, all of whom must be "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act and "qualified clients" within the meaning of Rule 205-3 under the Advisers Act. An investment in the Fund should be regarded as speculative and is not intended as a complete investment program. Such an investment is only designed for an experienced and sophisticated person who is able to bear the risk of a substantial impairment or the loss of his investment in the Fund. See "Risk Factors" below.

The Fund will issue to investors the Limited Partner Interests and assign a number of Units to such interests based upon a price of $10 per Unit purchased at the Initial Closing and $10.50 per Unit purchased at the Second Closing. The General Partner has targeted raising between $35 million and $150 million from investors in this Offering. The minimum investment by each investor is $1 million for investors in the Initial Closing and $2 million for investors in the Second Closing. The General Partner, in its Sole Discretion, reserves the right to accept investments of lesser amounts. Subscriptions for investment in the Fund are subject to acceptance by the General Partner in its discretion. See "Procedure For Becoming An Investor" below. Limited Partners will not have the right to withdraw or redeem their Limited Partnership Interests.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES, STRATEGY AND POLICIES

The General Partner intends to employ a disciplined investment process utilizing investment technology and research to evaluate fundamental factors, such as changes in levels of profitability and relative valuations. The Fund will purchase and sell securities at such times as the General Partner deems in the best interest of the Fund without regard to portfolio turnover, as to which there are no restrictions. The General Partner will seek to earn above market returns and long-term appreciation as follows:

The General Partner has identified the following general criteria and guidelines that its believes are important in evaluating prospective Portfolio Company Acquisitions (as defined below). The General Partner will use these criteria and guidelines in evaluating acquisition opportunities, but may decide to enter into a Portfolio Company Acquisition with a target business that does not meet these criteria and guidelines.

- Companies with Potential for Strong Free Cash Flow Generation. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have the potential to generate strong and stable free cash flow. The General Partner will focus on one or more businesses that have predictable, recurring revenue streams and low working capital and capital expenditure requirements.

- Strong Competitive Industry Position. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have strong fundamentals, including growth prospects, competitive dynamics, level of consolidation, need for capital investment and barriers to entry.

- Business with Revenue and Earnings Growth Potential. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses that have the potential for revenue and earnings growth through a combination of expense reduction, synergistic follow-on acquisitions and the investment of free cash.

- Business with Experienced and Motivated Management. The General Partner will seek to acquire one or more businesses with experienced management teams that have strong track records, have achieved superior performance and have a substantial personal economic stake in the performance of the acquired business.

- Distressed Businesses and Assets. The General Partner may seek to acquire distressed businesses or assets. Although such businesses may not be generating much cash flow (or may even be losing money), the General Partner may determine that the intrinsic value of such businesses or assets could be worth considerably more than the purchase price. Such businesses and assets would likely involve additional efforts and risks to unlock the intrinsic value.

These criteria are not intended to be exhaustive. Any evaluation relating to the merits of a particular Portfolio Company Acquisition may be based, to the extent relevant, on these general guidelines as well as other considerations, factors and criteria that the General Partner may deem relevant.

The Fund will have until March 31, 2016 (i.e., the Initial Acquisition Deadline) to acquire a controlling interest consisting of at least 60% of the voting equity securities or assets of a privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million (the "Initial Acquisition"). The General Partner is already in advanced negotiations to pursue the Initial Acquisition with the Identified Potential Target Company. However, the General Partner may, in its Sole Discretion, conduct the Initial Acquisition with any privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million regardless of its sector, industry or geographic location. At all times prior to the completion of the Initial Acquisition, the proceeds from this Offering (other than Organizational Expenses, Other Expenses and the Management Fees) will be held in deposit accounts and/or invested in Short-Term Investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve the Initial Acquisition prior to the Initial Acquisition Deadline.

If the Fund does not complete the Initial Acquisition by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will (i) promptly liquidate the Fund and distribute its assets to the Partners in accordance with "Summary of Principal Terms—Distributions" below after satisfying the Fund's liabilities and providing for the cost of dissolution and reserves for unliquidated liabilities; and (ii) give each Limited Partner the option to invest all (but not less than all) of the amounts distributable to it toward the purchase of limited partnership interests, at then current prices and subject to satisfying reasonable conditions and signing customary documents, of Pabrai Investment Fund 4, L.P. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are U.S. taxpayers) or Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are tax- exempt or non-U.S. persons).

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will thereafter have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to make additional Investments and Divestitures from time to time through and until the sixth anniversary of the Initial Closing (the "Investment Period"). Investments during the Investment Period may include:

- leveraged and unleveraged controlling interests ("Portfolio Company Acquisitions") consisting of at least a majority of the voting securities or assets of one or more privately held businesses (each, a "Portfolio Company");

- follow-on investments relating to Portfolio Companies including, but not limited to, loans and equity contributions to, and/or purchases of additional equity interests in, Portfolio Companies ("Follow-On Investments");

- equity securities of U.S. and/or non-U.S. publicly traded companies including private investments in public equities and other non-marketable securities (collectively, "Public Company Equity Securities");

- short-term instruments including, but not limited to, U.S. government treasury bills, money market funds, commercial paper, bank certificates of deposit and similar investments (collectively "Short-Term Investments"); and/or

- all other types of equity and debt securities including common and preferred stock, debt securities convertible into common or preferred stock or other types of securities, bonds, notes, zero coupon bonds, fixed income securities, options and investment company securities ("Other Investments").

During the Investment Period, the General Partner may also cause the Portfolio Companies to invest their cash in Investments subject to any laws and regulations applicable to the industries in which such Portfolio Companies operate. In addition, the General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, would have the authority to make Divestitures of any Investments of the Fund or any Portfolio Company. The General Partner also has the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to (i) issue additional Limited Partnership Interests in consideration for some or all of the purchase price for Portfolio Company Acquisitions and/or Follow-On Investments; and (ii) set the prices for such additional Limited Partnership Interests in good faith.

After the end of the Investment Period, the General Partner would not be permitted to make additional Investments, except for (i) completing Investments that were already in progress as of the end of the Investment Period; (ii) Short-Term Investments; (iii) Public Company Equity Securities; and (iv) Follow-On Investments. The foregoing investment restrictions applicable following the end of the Investment Period would not apply from and after the date that the Reporting Person Transaction occurs.

Although the Fund will not be registered under the Investment Company Act, its ability to invest in securities issued by investment companies is restricted under the Investment Company Act.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

The General Partner of the Fund is Dalal Street, LLC, a Texas limited liability company. The General Partner is an investment adviser registered with the SEC under the Advisers Act. The General Partner is controlled by Mohnish Pabrai. The General Partner will have overall responsibility for the management of the Fund and will provide portfolio management and administrative services to the Fund, including, but not limited to, investigating, analyzing, structuring and negotiating potential investments, monitoring Portfolio Company Acquisitions and advising the Fund as to disposition opportunities.

The General Partner is also the managing partner of the Pabrai Investment Fund 2, L.P. ("PIF2"), Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. ("PIF3"), and Pabrai Investment Fund 4, L.P. ("PIF4"). Mr. Pabrai's first fund, Pabrai Investment Fund I, L.P. (which has been merged with PIF2) commenced operations July 1 1999, and the General Partner currently has almost $700 million of investor funds under management. The Pabrai Investment Funds endeavor to employ a disciplined investment process utilizing Mr. Pabrai's financial expertise, experience and investment techniques to research and evaluate fundamental factors in seeking to achieve above market returns and long-term appreciation by investing principally in marketable securities of U.S. and non-U.S. companies.

Set forth below is a performance summary of the Pabrai Investment Funds (net of all fees to investors including management and incentive fees) since their inception, which are provided for background purposes only. Past performance is no guarantee of future results and investment fund performance varies over time. In addition, prospective investors are cautioned that the investment objects and risks of this Fund are materially different than those of the Pabrai Investment Funds which, among other differences, are hedge funds that do not acquire or operate businesses. Accordingly, prospective investors are cautioned to place little or no weight on the historical performance summary information set forth below.

Additional Background

Mr. Pabrai was the Chairman and CEO of TransTech, Inc., a Systems Integration and IT consulting solutions company, which he founded and initially operated from his home. From an initial investment by Mr. Pabrai of only $100,000 from personal funds, and no outside investment at any time during its existence, TransTech, Inc. grew to become an Inc. 500 company with revenues of more than $20 million per year and over 160 employees until it was sold to a third party in October 2000.

From 1986 to 1991, Mr. Pabrai was employed by Tellabs, Inc. Initially, he worked for more than two years in Tellabs' high-speed data networking R&D group and then joined its fledgling international subsidiary in 1989 where he worked on a wide range of assignments including joint ventures, international marketing and sales.

In 1986, Mr. Pabrai received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Clemson University in Computer Engineering, graduating magna cum laude with senior honors and completing the four-year degree program in three years. Thereafter, he completed course work towards a Master's Degree in Electrical Engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology, but did not finish his thesis due to the start- up of TransTech, Inc., discussed above.

In 1999, Mr. Pabrai was awarded the KPMG Illinois High Tech Entrepreneur award given by KPMG, The State of Illinois, and The City of Chicago. He is also a Member of the Young President's Organization (YPO). In addition, Mr. Pabrai is a member of Chief Executives Organization (CEO).

Mr. Pabrai has been favorably profiled by Forbes and Barron's and appeared on CNBC, Bloomberg TV and Bloomberg Radio. He has been quoted by various leading newspapers including The Wall Street Journal, The Financial Times, The Economic Times, USA Today, The Orange County

Register, The San Jose Mercury News and The Times of India. He is the author of two books, Mosaic: Perspectives on Investing and The Dhandho Investor: The Low Risk Value Method to High Returns.

THE ADVISORY BOARD

The advisory board of the Fund (the "Fund") shall be formed and composed by the General Partner and, initially, will comprise the following three members: Navneet S. Chugh, Terry Adams and Srini Pulavarti. The General Partner may from time to time, in its sole discretion, (i) increase or decrease the size of the Advisory Board; (ii) remove members of the Advisory Board for any reason or no reason; and (iii) select and appoint new Advisory Board members to fill vacancies created by increases in the size of the Advisory Board and/or the removal, resignation, death or disability of Advisory Board members. The Advisory Board will meet, as required to:

- review and determine in good faith whether to approve the resolution of potential conflicts, if any, for which the General Partner chooses to seek the Advisory Board's approval;

- determine in good faith whether the General Partner has committed Disabling Conduct, in which case 75% in interest of the Limited Partners may vote to end the Term of the Fund; provided, that such vote must occur no later than 90 days following the date the Advisory Board gives notice to the Limited Partners of its finding of Disabling Conduct;

- determine in good faith whether to approve (which approvals shall not be unreasonably withheld), (i) any physician selected by Mohnish Pabrai or his Representatives to determine whether Mohnish Pabrai has a physical or mental illness which has rendered him incapable of making investment decisions on behalf of the General Partner for an aggregate of 180 days during any period of twelve consecutive months (a "Permanent Disability"); and (ii) any person designated by Mohnish Pabrai or his Representatives to assume control of the General Partner in the event that Mohnish Pabrai dies or suffers a Permanent Disability (no such Advisory Board approval shall be required unless and until Mohnish Pabrai changes his designee from Guy Spier);

- assist with the liquidation and dissolution of the Fund in accordance with the terms of this Agreement; and

- provide such other advice and counsel as may be requested by the General Partner in connection with any other matter otherwise submitted to the Advisory Board by the General Partner; provided that the General Partner shall retain ultimate responsibility for making all decisions relating to the operation and management of the Fund, including, without limitation, making all investment decisions.

The term "Disabling Conduct" means: (i) the conviction of the General Partner of a felony that is reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Fund (or any Investment) or a crime of moral turpitude; or (ii) a final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further right to appeal that the General Partner or Mr. Pabrai committed fraud with respect to the Fund or a material willful breach of the terms of the Partnership Agreement.

Selected biographical information provided by the three initial members of the Advisory Board and Guy Spier follows:

Mr. Navneet S. Chugh is the Managing Partner of The Chugh Firm. He is an attorney-at-law, a Certified Public Accountant, and holds a MBA. The Chugh Firm provides corporate, tax, litigation, immigration, employment, media & entertainment, M&A, and business strategy services to emerging growth and mature companies. The Chugh Firm has a staff of 250 employees with 116 attorneys and CPAs, and has ten offices in Los Angeles, Santa Clara, Iselin (New Jersey), Atlanta, Washington DC, Bangalore, Chennai, New Delhi, Mumbai and Chandigarh. Mr. Chugh is an elected member of the The Indus Entrepreneurs (TiE) Global Board of Trustees. In 1997, he founded TiE Southern California and later served as President. In 2003, he was the founder and president of the North American South Asian Bar Association, a nationwide body with 27 chapters in North America. Mr. Chugh is co-chairman of Pratham, LA, and President of Sikh Center of Orange County. He is on the board of HAB Bank, Ignify Consulting, India Community Center, and Premier Media, Inc., the publisher of India Journal. He was also on the board of Asia Society of Southern California (2006-11); and American India Foundation (2005-10). He is a member of the World Presidents' Organization.

Mr. Terry Adams is a Director and Executive Vice President of SA Recycling. Originally started by Terry's father in 1973 as a small junk yard with a handful of employees, the company today operates over 55 facilities in California, Arizona and Nevada. The list of facilities includes two deep water ports and six automobile shredding plants. The company has 1,300 employees. Mr. Adams has served many roles at SA Recycling including in his current capacity in acquisitions and strategic planning. Over the past thirty years Mr. Adams has developed an extensive background and expertise in the recycling, processing, shredding, and management of all types of metals and waste streams, including hazardous, reactive and radioactive materials. In 1993, Mr. Adams helped form one of the first lithium recycling companies in the world and was the chief design engineer of a lithium battery recycling plant located in Trail, British Columbia for Retriev Technologies, one of the largest multi-chemistry battery recyclers in the U.S. and Canada. Retriev Technologies is currently finishing construction of a new Department of Energy (DOE) sponsored facility at one of its plants in Ohio. When completed in 2014, this plant is expected to be the first dedicated electric vehicle battery recycling operation in the U.S. Mr. Adams served as the president of Retriev Technologies from 1999 to 2011, and is currently the Chairman of its Board. Mr. Adams also serves on the boards of Foundation Board Children's Hospital Orange County (CHOC); Vice Chair, Orange County Boy Scout Council; and the USC Viterbi (School of Engineering) Board of Councilors. Mr. Adams received his Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from USC (1981) and a Masters in Business Administration from Cal State Fullerton (1985).

Mr. Srini Pulavarti

Guy Spier is the founder and Managing Partner of Aquamarine Fund (1997), an investment partnership inspired by, and styled after the original 1950's Buffett partnerships. Guy Spier previously worked at Braxton Associates in London & Paris from 1988 – 1990 and at the Forward Studies Unit of the European Commission in Brussels in 1991. Mr. Spier graduated from Oxford University (Brasenose College) with a MA, BA (Honors), first class in Politics, Philosophy & Economics in 1988. He received his MBA from Harvard Business School in 1993. In June 2007, Mr. Spier and Mohnish Pabrai bid for and won a charity lunch with Warren Buffett.

THE PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

The following is a summary description of select provisions of the Partnership Agreement which are not described elsewhere in this Memorandum. The description of such provisions is not definitive and reference should be made to the complete text of the Partnership Agreement contained in Exhibit A.

General

Under the Partnership Agreement, the Fund, under the direction of the General Partner, will make Investments consistent with the Investment Objectives and policies of the Fund set forth in the Partnership Agreement and summarized herein. Under the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner will be entitled to a Carried Interest and a Management Fee. Effective April 21, 2021, the General Partner decided to permanently waive its collection of Carried Interest in the Partnership and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser, L.P. This waiver does not impact at all the General Partner's right to and ownership of its share of pro-rata carried interest earned by Dhandho Funds, LLC by virtue of the General Partner's look-through ownership of Dhandho Funds, LLC. No additional compensation will be paid to the General Partner or any of its affiliates in connection with services rendered by the General Partner of the Fund.

Management of the Fund

The General Partner will be responsible for the day-to-day management of the Fund, including investment decisions. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the General Partner will have authority to enter into contracts for and on behalf of the Fund, except that the General Partner will have no authority (without the approval of at least 50% in interest of the Limited Partners) to (A) purchase individual real estate assets with respect to which the primary component of cash flow is comprised of rent; or (B) invest in oil, gas or other mineral exploration or development programs, except for investments in securities of companies that invest in or sponsor those programs.

The Initial Acquisition Requirement

The Fund will have until March 31, 2016 (i.e., the Initial Acquisition Deadline) to acquire a controlling interest consisting of at least 60% of the voting equity securities or assets of a privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million (the "Initial Acquisition"). The General Partner is already in advanced negotiations to pursue the Initial Acquisition with the Identified Potential Target Company. However, the General Partner may, in its Sole Discretion, conduct the Initial Acquisition with any privately held business having an equity or net asset value of at least $10 million regardless of its sector, industry or geographic location. At all times prior to the completion of the Initial Acquisition, the proceeds from this Offering (other than Organizational Expenses, Other Expenses and the Management Fees) will be held in deposit accounts and/or invested in Short-Term Investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve the Initial Acquisition prior to the Initial Acquisition Deadline.

If the Fund does not complete the Initial Acquisition by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will (i) promptly liquidate the Fund and distribute its assets to the Partners in accordance with "—Distributions" below after satisfying the Fund's liabilities and providing for the cost of dissolution and reserves for unliquidated liabilities; and (ii) give each Limited Partner the option to invest all (but not less than all) of the amounts distributable to it toward the purchase of limited partnership interests, at then current prices and subject to satisfying reasonable conditions and signing customary documents, of Pabrai Investment Fund 4, L.P. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are U.S. taxpayers) or Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. (for Limited Partners of the Fund that are tax-exempt or non-U.S. persons). Any decision by a Limited Partner of the Fund to so invest in a Pabrai Investment Fund would be entirely the investment decision and responsibility of such Limited Partner, and none of the Covered Persons (as defined below in "—Indemnification and Exculpation of General Partner and the Advisory Board") will assume any risk, responsibility or expense, or be deemed to have provided any advice or recommendation, in connection therewith.

The Investment Period

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will thereafter have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to make additional Investments and Divestitures from time to time through and until the sixth anniversary of the Initial Closing (the "Investment Period"). After the end of the Investment Period, the General Partner will not be permitted to make additional Investments, except for (i) completing Investments that were already in progress as of the end of the Investment Period; (ii) Short-Term Investments; (iii) Public Company Equity Securities; and (iv) Follow-On Investments. Notwithstanding the foregoing to the contrary, the investment restrictions applicable during and following the end of the Investment Period will not apply if the Reporting Person Transaction (as defined in the next paragraph) occurs.

The Reporting Person Transaction

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will thereafter also have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, until January 1, 2019 to reorganize the Fund (the "Reorganization") into a corporation that is taxable as a corporation rather than a partnership (the "Successor Company") and cause the common stock of the Successor Company ("Common Stock") to be registered under the Securities Act and/or the Exchange Act (such registration together with the Reorganization, collectively, the "Reporting Person Transaction"). The purpose of the Reporting Person Transaction would be to convert the Fund into a permanent capital vehicle and facilitate private secondary re-sales of Limited Partner Interests, subject to the requirements of Rule 144 under the Securities Act ("Rule 144") and other federal and state securities laws. The General Partner will have the authority, in its Sole Discretion, to select the structure for the Reporting Person Transaction and may conduct a self- filing or traditional underwritten initial public offering (i.e., an IPO). In addition, the Reporting Person Transaction may, in the Sole Discretion of the General Partner, include a concurrent direct placement of up to $100 million to one or more affiliates of the General Partner.

If the Reorganization occurs, the Partnership Agreement provides for (i) the Limited Partner Interests held by Limited Partners who are not Affiliated Investors (collectively, the "Unaffiliated Partner Interests") to be converted into Common Stock of the Successor Company; and (ii) the Limited Partner Interests held by Affiliated Investors together with the General Partner's Carried Interest as described below in "—Carried Interest of the General Partner" (collectively, the "Affiliated Partner Interests") to be converted into "Class B Common Stock" of the Successor Company. As a result of the foregoing, the Partners of the Fund would become the stockholders of the Successor Company. The Class B Common Stock would be entitled to 30 votes per share (whereas the Common Stock would be entitled to one vote per share) and would be convertible at any time, in each holder's sole discretion, into Common Stock on a share-for-share basis. In addition, the organizational documents of the Successor Company would include appropriate protective provisions determined by the General Partner acting in good faith including restrictions on any amendments that would increase the rights of the Common Stock or decrease or impair the rights of the Class B Common Stock, in either case, without the approval of a majority of Class B Common Stock outstanding. Except for the differences in voting power and conversion rights set forth above, shares of the Common Stock and Class B Common Stock would have identical rights and privileges. The Partnership Agreement provides that the number of shares of Common Stock and Class B Common Stock issued in the Reorganization would be proportionate to the dollar amount of distributions that the Partners would be entitled to receive in a hypothetical dissolution of the Fund. The Successor Company's charter and bylaws would provide for a staggered board of directors and such other provisions as the General Partner determines in its Sole Discretion acting in good faith.

There is no market for our securities and a market for the securities of the Successor Company may not develop following the Reporting Person Transaction. We anticipate that, if the Reporting Person

Transaction occurs, the Common Stock would initially be quoted on the OTCBB, the OTCQX or the NASDAQ Capital Market. Subsequently, we may seek to list on a national securities exchange subject to satisfying such exchange's initial listing requirements. There can be no assurance that the Fund will ever achieve the Reporting Person Transaction or be listed on a national securities exchange.

By signing the Partnership Agreement, each investor agrees that, for a period of 365 days after the completion of the Reporting Person Transaction, or such longer period as the General Partner may reasonably request, it will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Common Stock, Class B Common Stock or any other equity securities of the Successor Company without the prior written consent of the General Partner in its Sole Discretion (the "Lock-Up Commitments").

Following the Reporting Person Transaction, it is contemplated that Mr. Pabrai or his designee would serve as the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Successor Company and receive a salary of $100,000 per year and that Mr. Pabrai or the General Partner would enter into an arrangement with the Successor Company that provides for an incentive bonus every five years equal to 10% of the amount, if any, by which the book value of the Successor Company exceeds the level that would have been achieved assuming a growth rate equal to the actual performance of the S&P 500 index during the applicable five-year period. Such incentive bonus would be payable in cash and/or shares of Class B Common Stock, at Mr. Pabrai's option. The Successor Company would structure the incentive bonus to make it tax efficient for Mr. Pabrai or the General Partner, as applicable.

Carried Interest of the General Partner

Pursuant to the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner will receive a 10% carried interest in the Fund's profits after all of the initial capital contributed by the Limited Partners has been repaid. See "—Distributions" below.

Effective April 21, 2021, the General Partner decided to permanently waive its collection of Carried Interest from the Partnership and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser, L.P. This waiver does not impact at all the General Partner's right to and ownership of its share of pro-rata carried interest earned by Dhandho Funds, LLC by virtue of the General Partner's look-through ownership of Dhandho Funds, LLC.

Management Fees

In addition to the Carried Interest, the General Partner will receive an annual management fee (the "Management Fee") from the Fund beginning on the date of the Initial Closing and ending on the earlier to occur of (i) the final dissolution of the Fund; and (ii) the completion of the Reporting Person Transaction. The General Partner, acting in its Sole Discretion, will set the amount of the Management Fee annually in an amount not to exceed 1% of the total proceeds from this Offering per year. The Management Fee is intended to cover the costs and expenses (including staff salaries) of the General Partner incurred in connection with the management of the Fund although no specific accounting of such costs and expenses will be made and it is possible that the Management Fee will exceed such actual costs and expenses. If the General Partner or its affiliates receive directors' fees, consulting and/or advisory fees from Portfolio Companies, an amount equal to 100% of all such fees will be applied to reduce the Management Fee otherwise payable.

Other Fees

The Fund will bear all legal and other expenses incurred in connection with the formation of the Fund and this Offering. The Fund will pay all costs, expenses and liabilities in connection with its operations, including: fees, costs and expenses related to consummated and unconsummated Investments and Divestitures; taxes; fees and expenses of accountants, counsel and administrators; costs and expenses of the Advisory Board and any partners meeting; litigation expenses; insurance coverage; indemnification obligations; brokerage commissions; custodial fees; bank service fees; interest on margin accounts and other indebtedness, if any; and all other expenses incurred by the Fund.

Brokerage

The General Partner is authorized to determine the brokers or dealers to be used for each securities transaction for the Fund. In selecting brokers or dealers to execute transactions, the General Partner need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost. It is not the General Partner's practice to negotiate "execution only" commission rates, thus the Fund may be deemed to be paying for research and related services provided by brokers which are included in the commission rate. Research and related services furnished by brokers may include, but are not limited to, written information and analyses concerning specific securities, companies or sectors; market, financial and economic studies and forecasts; financial publications; statistical and pricing services, as well as discussions with research personnel, along with hardware, software, databases and other technical and telecommunication services, lines, and equipment utilized in the investment management process. Research and related services obtained by the use of commissions arising from the Fund's investment transactions may be used by the General Partner in its other investment activities. In negotiating commission rates, the General Partner will take into account the financial stability and reputation of brokerage firms, and the brokerage, research and related services provided by such brokers.

Proprietary Nature of Investment Strategy

All documents and other information concerning the Fund's portfolio of investments will be made available to the Fund's auditors, accountants, attorneys and other agents in connection with the duties and services performed by them for the Fund. However, because the General Partner's investment techniques are propriety, neither the Fund nor any of its auditors, accountants, attorneys or other agents will disclose to any person, including Limited Partners in the Fund, any of the investment techniques employed by the General Partner in managing the Fund's investments or, to the extent not required by applicable law or regulation, the identity of specific investments held by the Fund at any particular time.

Exculpation and Indemnification of General Partner and the Advisory Board

To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the General Partner, the members of the Advisory Board, their respective affiliates, or their respective direct and indirect owners, managers, members, shareholders, partners, directors, officers, employees, agents, advisors or personnel (each, a "Covered Person") will be liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners for any losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) (collectively, "Losses") suffered by the Fund as a result of any act or omission of any Covered Person, or for any breach of contract (including breach of the Partnership Agreement) or any breach of duties (including breach of fiduciary duties), unless it shall be determined by final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further right to appeal that, in respect of the matter in question, such Covered Person engaged in gross negligence or willful misconduct. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Fund will indemnify each Covered Person against all Losses incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (in each case, threatened or actual), to which such Covered Person may be or becomes subject by reason of such Covered Person's activities on behalf of the Fund, except to the extent that such Losses are determined to have resulted from such Covered Person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Fund may pay the expenses incurred by any such Covered Person in defending any such proceeding in advance of the final disposition, provided such Covered Person undertakes to repay such expenses if it is, upon final judicial determination, not entitled to indemnification.

Liability of Limited Partners

Assuming that a Limited Partner does not take part in control of the Fund and otherwise acts in accordance with the terms of the Partnership Agreement, such Limited Partner's liability under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (the "Delaware Act") will generally be limited to amounts distributed to the limited partner in violation of the Delaware Act. The Delaware Act prohibits distributions to the extent that, at the time of the distribution after giving effect to the distribution, the liabilities of the Fund (other than liabilities to partners on account of partnership interests and liabilities for which recourse is limited to specified property) exceed the net fair market value of the Fund.

As described above, pursuant to the Delaware Act, Limited Partners generally are not personally liable for obligations of the Fund unless, in addition to the exercise of their rights and powers as Limited Partners, they participate in the control of the business of the Fund. Any such Limited Partner would be liable only to persons who transact business with the Fund reasonably believing, based on such Limited Partner's conduct, that the Limited Partner is a general partner. Under the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the Limited Partners do not have the right to take part in the control of the Fund, but they may exercise the right to vote on certain limited matters submitted to them. Although such right to vote should not constitute taking part in the control of the Fund's business under applicable Delaware law, there is no specific statutory or other authority for the existence or exercise of some or all of these powers in some other jurisdictions. To the extent that the Fund is subject to the jurisdiction of courts in jurisdictions other than the State of Delaware, it is possible that these courts may not apply Delaware law to the question of the limited liability of the Limited Partners.

The General Partner may require the Limited Partners to return certain distributions (not to exceed 25% of the aggregate distributions received by each Limited Partner) for the purpose of satisfying the Fund's indemnification obligations described above in "—Indemnification and Exculpation of General Partner and the Advisory Board." Notwithstanding the foregoing, Limited Partners will not be obligated to return any distribution after the third anniversary of the date of such distribution, unless the General Partner has notified the Limited Partners before the end of such three-year period of any pending or outstanding proceedings or claims which might require the Limited Partners to return such amounts.

Distributions

Distributions, if any, when made by the Fund, will be made to the Partners in the following order and priority:

1. Return of Capital: First, 100% to the Partners (pro rata in accordance with their respective capital contributions to the Fund) until the cumulative amount distributed to the Partners equals the sum of their respective capital contributions to the Fund; and

2. 90/10 Split: Thereafter, (i) 90% to the Partners (pro rata in accordance with their respective Units in the Fund); and (ii) 10% to the General Partner (the distributions to the General Partner described in clause (ii) of this paragraph being referred to as the General Partner's "Carried Interest").

The Fund does not, however, intend to make current distributions of income, if any. Also, the General Partner, has the Sole Discretion as to whether to make distributions and, if so, as to the timing and amount thereof. As a result, the Fund may not be a suitable investment for persons seeking current income.

Any distributions before the dissolution of the Fund will be made in cash or marketable securities at their fair market value. Upon dissolution of the Fund, and subject to applicable law, distributions may also include restricted securities or other assets of the Fund which will be valued in accordance with the valuation procedure specified in the Partnership Agreement.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary above, the General Partner may, but is not obligated to, cause the Fund to make distributions to itself and/or certain other Partners to satisfy its and/or their estimated tax liabilities with respect to their respective shares of the Fund's taxable income and gain.

Transferability of Limited Partner Interests

The Limited Partner Interests of the Fund are not being registered under the Securities Act. In addition, neither the Fund nor the General Partner has an obligation or current intention to register the Limited Partner Interests or obtain any exemption from registration and, except for the possibility of the Public Reporting Transaction, no such registration is contemplated for the future. As a result, the Limited Partner Interests are not marketable and no market for the Limited Partner Interests is expected to develop.

Before the Reporting Person Transaction, if an investor desires to sell, assign, pledge, exchange, hypothecate, transfer or otherwise dispose of his Limited Partner Interests in the Fund, such investor may not make such transfer or disposition without the consent of the General Partner which consent may be granted or withheld in the Sole Discretion of the General Partner. In addition, but without limiting the General Partner's discretion, the General Partner may require, as a condition to granting such consent, an opinion from the Fund's counsel that such disposition does not require registration under U.S. federal or state securities laws, require the Fund to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act or jeopardize the status of the Fund or its investors for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the event of the death, disability or bankruptcy of an investor, the General Partner will have the right, acting in its Sole Discretion, to either (i) permit such investor's legal representative to become a substituted Limited Partner upon satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth in the Partnership Agreement; or (ii) require the complete or partial withdrawal of the assigned interest from the Fund on the terms that the General Partner, in its sole discretion, determines to be fair and equitable.

Following the Reporting Person Transaction and the expiration of any Lock-Up Commitments, Partners who are not "affiliates" of the Successor Company (generally investors who are less than 10% shareholders of the Successor Company and not members of the Successor Company's board of directors) would, subject to the requirements of Rule 144 and other federal and state securities laws, be able to freely transfer their investments to the extent they can find a willing buyer. The Affiliated Investors' ability to sell under Rule 144 will be limited. However, following the Reporting Person Transaction, the Affiliated Investors would have the right to require the Successor Company to register the Common Stock into which their shares of Class B Common Stock are convertible for re-sale under the Securities Act. The Successor Corporation would bear the costs and expenses of filing any such registration statements.

Fiscal Year; Statements

The Fund's fiscal year will end December 31 of each year. Investors will receive audited year- end financial statements annually.

Power of Attorney

By entering into the Partnership Agreement, each of the Limited Partners will irrevocably appoint the General Partner as such Limited Partner's representative and attorney-in-fact to make, execute and file (i) a certificate of limited partnership of the Fund; (ii) any amendments thereof required to reflect any amendments hereof or any change in the ownership of the Fund or in the capital contributions of the Partners; (iii) any other amendments thereof required or permitted by law; and (iv) all other instruments, documents and certificates which may be required by the laws of any jurisdiction in which the Fund does business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, to effectuate, implement or continue the valid and subsisting existence of the Fund.

Amendments to the Partnership Agreement

The terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreement may be modified or amended at any time and from time to time with the written consent of the General Partner together with the consent of the holders of not less than 50% in interest of the Limited Partners, insofar as is consistent with the laws governing the Partnership Agreement; provided, however, that, without the specific consent of each Partner affected, no such modification or amendment shall (i) reduce the capital account of any partner; (ii) change the respective liabilities of the General Partner and the Limited Partners; (iii) change the respective percentages of the profit and loss interests of the partners; or (iv) amend the provisions governing the amendment of the Partnership Agreement.

Consent by Failure to Respond to Notice

Pursuant to the terms of the Partnership Agreement, in the event that the General Partner seeks in writing the consent or approval of the Limited Partners for any purposes hereunder, a Limited Partner to whom notice has been delivered shall be deemed to have consented to or approved the matter, unless the General Partner receives, within fifteen days of the delivery of the request, a written response from such Limited Partner which indicates that the Limited Partner is not willing to grant such consent or approval.

Term and Termination of the Fund

Absent amendment of the Partnership Agreement extending the duration of the Fund or the events described below, the term of the Fund (the "Term") will end on the tenth anniversary of the Initial Closing; provided, however, that (i) the Term will expire on April 1, 2016 if the Fund has not completed its Initial Acquisition (as defined above in "—The Initial Acquisition Period Requirement") on or before March 31, 2016 (the "Initial Acquisition Deadline"); (ii) the General Partner shall have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to extend the Term by up to two consecutive one-year extension periods if the Initial Acquisition is completed prior to the Initial Acquisition Deadline; and (iii) the Term will cease to apply if the Reporting Person Transaction (as defined above in "—The Reporting Person Transaction") occurs.

Effective November 16, 2020, the Partnership Agreement was amended to change the term of the Partnership to perpetual.

Regardless of the specified Term, the Fund will be terminated upon (i) voluntary resignation or withdrawal of the General Partner or adjudication of bankruptcy or insolvency of the General Partner; (ii) the affirmative vote to end the Term of the Fund by 75% in interest of the Limited Partners within 90 days of the Advisory Board's finding of Disabling Conduct (as defined above in "Summary of Principal Terms—Disabling Conduct by the General Partner"); (iii) the election by the General Partner, upon sixty days' prior notice to the Limited Partners, to dissolve the Fund; (iv) the continued conduct of the Fund's business becoming unlawful; or (v) the order of dissolution by a court of competent jurisdiction or upon any recognized process of dissolution as provided for by the laws of the State of Delaware.

The following provisions apply to the termination or dissolution of the Fund other than as a result of failure to complete the Initial Acquisition by the Initial Acquisition Deadline. Upon the termination or dissolution of the Fund, an accounting shall be made of the operations, from the date of the last previous accounting to the date of such termination. The liquidation and winding up of the Fund, and the termination of its business and affairs, shall be conducted by the General Partner, however, if the termination of the Fund was the result of either (i) the voluntary resignation or withdrawal of the General Partner or an adjudication of bankruptcy or insolvency of the General Partner; or (ii) the affirmative vote to end the Term of the Fund by 75% in interest of the Limited Partners within 90 days of the Advisory Board's finding of Disabling Conduct (as defined above in "Summary of Principal Terms—Disabling Conduct by the General Partner"), then the liquidation and winding up of the Fund shall be conducted by a person or persons selected by an Advisory Board of the Fund, or if there is no Advisory Board, by the majority in interest of the Limited Partners. The General Partner or such other liquidating trustee shall, after paying all liabilities and providing for the cost of dissolution and reserves for unliquidated liabilities, distribute the remainder either in cash or in securities to the then Partners (or their representatives) in accordance with "—Distributions" above after taking into account transactions related to the liquidation of the Fund. No Limited Partner shall be required to accept a distribution of a portfolio security which exceeds his pro rata share (based on capital account balances) of such security. In the event the Fund's business is wound up and liquidated by a liquidating trustee, such trustee will be entitled to compensation.

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS AND ALLOCATIONS

Capital accounts

The Fund will establish a capital account for each Partner on its books. A Partner's capital account shall be credited with the Partner's original capital contribution, any additional capital contributions, and any net profits allocated to such partner, and shall be debited with any net losses allocated to the partner, deductions specially allocated to the partner and the amount of any distributions. See "Capital Accounts, Allocations and Valuations—Allocations of Net Profit (Loss)."

Allocations of Net Profit (Loss)

Profits and losses of the Fund will be allocated among Partners consistent with the manner in which distributions will be made as described in "—Distributions" above and the requirements of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Partners may be allocated income or gain for U.S. income tax purposes without a corresponding cash distribution.

FUND ADMINISTRATOR

The Fund will enter into an agreement with Michael J. Liccar & Co. (the "Administrator"), a CPA firm based in Chicago, to perform all general administrative tasks for the Fund, including the keeping of the financial records and preparation of reports to investors. It should be noted that the Fund may, without notice to investors, retain other or additional service providers (including the General Partner or its affiliates) to perform the administrative services that would otherwise be performed by the Administrator.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITIES

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Potential conflicts of interest exist and may arise in the future as a result of the relationships between the General Partner and its affiliates on the one hand, and the Fund or any other Partners, on the other hand. Whenever a potential conflict arises between the General Partner or its affiliates, on the one hand, and the Fund or any other Partner, on the other hand, the General Partner will resolve that conflict. The Partnership Agreement contains provisions that reduce and eliminate certain of the General Partner's duties (including fiduciary duties) to Limited Partners. The Partnership Agreement also restricts the remedies available to Limited Partners for actions taken that without those limitations might constitute breaches of duty (including fiduciary duties).

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner will not be in breach of its obligations under the Partnership Agreement or its duties to the Fund or the Limited Partners if the resolution of the conflict is:

- approved by the Advisory Board, although the General Partner is not obligated to seek such approval; or

- on terms that the General Partner, acting in good faith, determines are no less favorable to the Fund than those generally being provided to or available from unrelated third parties; or

- on terms that the General Partner, acting in good faith, determines are fair and reasonable to the Fund, taking into account the totality of the relationships among the parties involved, including other transactions that may be particularly favorable or advantageous to the Fund.

The General Partner may, but is not required to, seek the approval of such resolution from the Advisory Board. If the General Partner does not seek approval from the Advisory Board and it determines that the resolution or course of action taken with respect to the conflict of interest satisfies either of the standards set forth in the second or third bullet points above, then it will be presumed that in making its decision the General Partner acted in good faith, and in any proceeding brought by or on behalf of any Limited Partner or the Fund, the person bringing such proceeding will have the burden of overcoming such presumption. Unless the resolution of a conflict is specifically provided for in the Partnership Agreement or this Memorandum, the General Partner or the Advisory Board, as applicable, may consider any factors it determines in good faith to consider when resolving a conflict. The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner will be conclusively presumed to be acting in good faith if it subjectively believes that the decision made or not made is in the best interests of the Fund.

The standards set forth in the three bullet points above establish the procedures by which conflict of interest situations are to be resolved pursuant to the Partnership Agreement. These procedures benefit the General Partner by providing the General Partner with significant flexibility with respect to its ability to make decisions and pursue actions involving conflicts of interest. Given the significant flexibility afforded the General Partner to resolve conflicts of interest — including that the General Partner has the right to determine not to seek the approval of the Advisory Board with respect to the resolution of such conflicts — the general partner may resolve conflict of interests pursuant to the Partnership Agreement in a manner that Limited Partners may not believe to be in their or in the Fund's best interests. Neither the Fund nor the Limited Partners have any recourse against the General Partner if the General Partner satisfies one of the standards described in the three bullet points above.

Conflicts of interest could arise in the situations described below, among others:

The General Partner and its affiliates may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and activity between the Fund and other clients, in allocating investments among the Fund and other clients and in effecting transactions for the Fund and other clients, including ones in which the General Partner and its affiliates may have a greater financial interest. Affiliates of the General Partner serve as investment advisers or investment managers to (and are investors in) other client accounts, including three active hedge funds (i.e., Pabrai Investment Fund 2, L.P., Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. and Pabrai Investment Fund 4, L.P.) and conduct investment activities for their own accounts. Such other entities, clients or accounts may have investment objectives or may implement investment strategies similar to those the General Partner intends to employ with respect to the Fund and its Portfolio Companies.

To the extent a particular investment is suitable for both the Fund and/or its Portfolio Companies, on one hand, and other clients of the General Partner's affiliates, on the other hand, the Fund will buy and sell after such other clients which could result in the Fund and/or its Portfolio companies having no or limited participation in a particular investment and/or buying at a higher price, or selling at a lower price, than such other clients. Affiliates of the General Partner may also give advice or take action with respect to other clients that differs from the advice given with respect to the Fund and its Portfolio Companies. In addition, the Fund and/or its Portfolio Companies, on one hand, and other clients of the General Partner's affiliates, on the other hand, may invest in different securities issued by the same company. The Partnership Agreement also recognizes that it may not always be possible or consistent with the investment objectives of the various persons or entities described above and of the Fund for the same investment positions to be taken or liquidated at the same time or at the same price.

In addition, there may be circumstances under which the General Partner will consider participation by other clients in investment opportunities in which the General Partner does not intend to invest, or intends to invest only on a limited basis, on behalf of the Fund. The General Partner evaluates for the Fund and the other clients a variety of factors which may be relevant in determining whether a particular situation or strategy is appropriate and feasible for the Fund or a particular client at a particular time, including the nature of the investment opportunity taken in the context of the other investment or regulatory limitations on the Fund or the particular client and the transaction costs involved. Because these considerations may differ for the Fund and other clients in the context of any particular investment opportunity, investment activities of the Fund and other entities may differ considerably from time to time.

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner or its principals or affiliates may be or may become associated with any other business venture or ventures of any nature and description, including, without limitation, (i) developing and managing other investment entities and engaging in investment management for others (including investment funds with investment objectives substantially similar to the Investment Objectives of the Fund); and (ii) businesses engaged in or anticipated to be engaged in by any Portfolio Company (including business interests and activities in direct competition with the business and activities of any Portfolio Company). Except to the extent necessary to perform its obligations under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner and its principals and affiliates will not be limited to or restricted from engaging in or devoting time and attention to the management of any other business, whether of a similar or dissimilar nature, or from rendering services of any kind to any other corporation, firm, individual or association.

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner may limit its liability under contractual arrangements so that the other party has recourse only to the Fund's assets, and not against the General Partner, its assets or its owners. The Partnership Agreement provides that any action taken by the General Partner to limit its liability or the Fund's liability is not a breach of the General Partner's fiduciary duties, even if the Fund could have obtained more favorable terms without the limitation on liability.

The Fund and the General Partner are not represented by separate professional advisers. The legal firms for the Fund have represented the General Partner and its affiliates in the past and it is anticipated that such representation will continue in the future. Without independent legal and other professional representation, investors may not receive legal and other advice regarding certain matters that might be in their interests but contrary to the interest of the General Partner. However, should a dispute arise between the Fund and the General Partner, or should there be a need in the future to negotiate and prepare contracts and agreements between any of the Fund and the General Partner, other than those existing or contemplated on the date of this Memorandum, the General Partner may cause the Fund to retain separate counsel and, if necessary, other professionals for such matters.

In addition, the Reporting Person Transaction may, in the Sole Discretion of the General Partner, include a concurrent direct placement of up to $100 million to one or more Affiliates of the General Partner (including the Pabrai Investment Funds).

Fiduciary Duties

The Act provides that Delaware limited partnerships may in their partnership agreements expand, restrict or eliminate the duties (including fiduciary duties) otherwise owed by a general partner to limited partners and the partnership. The Partnership Agreement contains provisions that waive or consent to conduct by the General Partner and its affiliates that might otherwise raise issues about compliance with fiduciary duties or otherwise applicable law. We have adopted these restrictions to allow the General Partner and its affiliates to engage in transactions with us that could otherwise be prohibited by state-law fiduciary duty standards and to take into account the interests of other parties in addition to the interests of the Funds and the Limited Partners when resolving conflicts of interest. Without these modifications, the General Partner's ability to make decisions involving conflicts of interest would be restricted. These modifications are detrimental to the Limited Partners because they restrict the remedies available to Limited Partners for actions that without those limitations might constitute breaches of duty (including fiduciary duty), as described below, and permit the General Partner to take into account the interests of third parties in addition to the interests of the Fund and Limited Partners when resolving conflicts of interest.

For example, fiduciary duties are generally considered to include an obligation to act in good faith and with due care and loyalty. In the absence of a provision in a partnership agreement providing otherwise, the duty of care would generally require a general partner to act for the partnership in the same manner as a prudent person would act on his own behalf. In the absence of a provision in a partnership agreement providing otherwise, the duty of loyalty would generally prohibit a general partner of a Delaware limited partnership from taking any action or engaging in any transaction that is not in the best interests of the partnership where a conflict of interest is present. The Partnership Agreement modifies the duty of care and loyalty by providing that when the General Partner, in its capacity as the General Partner, is permitted to or required to make a decision in its "sole discretion" or "discretion" or that it deems "necessary or appropriate" or "necessary or advisable," the General Partner will be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and will have no duty or obligation (fiduciary or otherwise) to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Fund or any Limited Partners and, subject to the non-waivable requirements under the Advisers Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, will not be subject to any different standards imposed by the Partnership Agreement, the Act or under any other law, rule or regulation or in equity. These modifications of fiduciary duties are expressly permitted by Delaware law. Hence, the Fund and the Limited Partners will only have recourse and be able to seek remedies against the General Partner if the General Partner breaches its obligations pursuant to the Partnership Agreement subject to applicable law. Unless the General Partner breaches its obligations pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the Fund and the Limited Partners will not have any recourse against the General Partner even if the General Partner were to act in a manner that was inconsistent with traditional fiduciary duties.

Furthermore, even if there has been a breach of the obligations set forth in the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership Agreement provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the General Partner and the other Covered Persons will not be liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners for errors of judgment or for any acts or omissions unless there has been a final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further appeal determining that the General Partner or such other Covered Persons acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct. These modifications are detrimental to the Limited Partners because they restrict the remedies available to Limited Partners for actions that without those limitations might constitute breaches of duty (including fiduciary duty).

By purchasing Limited Partner Interests, each investor automatically agrees to be bound by the provisions in the Partnership Agreement, including the provisions discussed above. This is in accordance with the policy of the Act favoring the principle of freedom of contract and the enforceability of partnership agreements.

ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING STANDARDS

The Fund and the Administrator are subject to certain governmental and other regulatory standards for the prevention of money laundering and may take such steps as the Fund or the Administrator considers necessary to comply with such standards. As a result, investors in the Fund may be required to furnish information and supporting documentation concerning their identity, the source of the monies to be invested and the account(s) from or to which funds are transferred between the investor and the Fund. Failure to provide such information or documentation in a timely manner could result in a refusal to issue Limited Partner Interests or a delay the issuance or redemption of Limited Partner Interests of the Fund.

RISK FACTORS

The purchase of Limited Partner Interests of the Fund is only suitable for investors who do not have a need for liquidity and who meet the suitability standards set forth herein. Persons considering an investment in the Fund should carefully evaluate the risks involved in such an investment including those summarized in this Memorandum. The order in which the following risks and other factors are discussed is not intended to be indicative of their relative importance.

The Initial Acquisition

The General Partner is already in advanced negotiations to pursue the Initial Acquisition with the Identified Potential Target Company. However, the General Partner does not intend to disclose the name or financial condition of the Identified Potential Target Company before completing this Offering, and so prospective investors will be unable to ascertain the merits or risks of the Identified Potential Target Company's operations. Due to the current structure of the Identified Potential Target Company, any such acquisition would require (i) conducting a demutualization process, which would be overseen by, and require the approval of, the insurance commissioner of the state in the which the insurance company is formed; and (ii) acquiring both the demutualized insurance company and the separate management company.

The General Partner may not be successful in acquiring the Identified Potential Target Company or may otherwise choose not to continue pursuing such transaction. In such event, the Fund may end up consummating the Initial Acquisition with a target company that does not meet the General Partner's guidelines, in which case the Initial Acquisition may not be as successful as a combination with a business that does meet the General Partner's guidelines. Other than the Identified Potential Target Company, the General Partner has not identified any other acquisition targets and has not initiated any discussions, research or other measures, directly or indirectly, with respect to identifying any acquisition target.

The General Partner may also be forced to enter into an Initial Acquisition on terms that it would have rejected upon a more comprehensive investigation due to the requirement that the Initial Acquisition be completed by March 31, 2016. The General Partner is not required to obtain an opinion from an investment banking firm, and consequently, investors may have no assurance from an independent source that the price the Fund is paying for the business is fair to the investors from a financial point of view. Investors will not have the ability to vote against or redeem their Limited Partner Interests in the event they disapprove of the Initial Acquisition or other investments made by the General Partner.

If the Fund does not complete the Initial Acquisition by March 31, 2016, the Fund would be dissolved and investors would lose some of their investment as a result of expenses and other liabilities incurred by the Fund.

Certain Risks Specific to the Insurance Industry

Insurance businesses are subject to regulation in the states in which they operate. Such regulations may relate to, among other things, the types of business that can be written, the rates that can be charged for coverage, the level of capital that must be maintained, and restrictions on the types and size of investments that can be made. Regulations may also restrict the timing and amount of dividend payments. Accordingly, changes in regulations related to these or other matters or regulatory actions imposing restrictions on any insurance companies that the Fund acquires, may adversely impact our results of operations. In addition, the approval of the insurance commissioner of the state in the which an insurance company is formed (and potentially other states also) must be obtained before the Fund, or any other person or entity, may acquire ten percent or more of the equity ownership interests.

The extensive regulation of insurance businesses may affect the cost or demand for products and may limit the ability of insurers to obtain rate increases or to take other actions that they might desire to maintain profitability. In addition, insurers may be unable to maintain all required approvals or comply fully with applicable laws and regulations, or the relevant governmental authority's interpretation of such laws and regulations. If that were to occur, insurers may lose their ability to conduct business in certain jurisdictions. Further, changes in the level of regulation of the insurance industry or changes in laws or regulations or interpretations by regulatory authorities could impact insurers' operations and profitability. There is also the possibility of federal regulation of insurance.

In addition to regulatory risks, there are many other risks associated with insurance businesses such as litigation and the degree of estimation error inherent in the process of estimating insurance loss reserves which may result in significant underwriting losses.

Investors' Lack of Control and Limited Reporting

Investors will not be entitled to vote or otherwise participate in the management or control of the Fund. Additionally, the Fund will provide reports of Fund performance only on an annual basis as of calendar year end. As a result, holders of Limited Partner Interests will not be able to evaluate the Fund's performance at shorter intervals.

Reliance on General Partner

The Fund will rely solely on the General Partner for investment advice and recommendations. Also, the principal of the General Partner has no experience investing funds for other persons prior to July 1999. See "Investment Management." The principal of the General Partner has no experience acquiring businesses or operating companies in the insurance industry.

Undisclosed Investing Strategy

The General Partner's investment strategy and the techniques it will employ to attempt to reach the Fund's goal are proprietary and will not be disclosed to potential investors (or to Limited Partners) except to the extent required by applicable law or regulation. As a result, a potential investor's decision to invest in the Fund must be made without the benefit of being able to review and analyze the General Partner's strategy and techniques other than to review the past performance of other investment vehicles for which the General Partner's affiliates provide investment advisory services. The past performance of these investment vehicles is not a guarantee of future results, are based on different investment strategies, and does not allow for a detailed evaluation of the General Partner's strategy and techniques.

Minimal Restrictions on Concentrations of Investments

The Fund will have virtually no restrictions on either the amount of Fund assets that can be invested in any particular industry or in the percentage of Fund assets that may be invested in any particular security. Although the Fund will not be registered under the Investment Company Act, its ability to invest in securities issued by investment companies is restricted under the Investment Company Act. Therefore, the Fund may be exposed to greater risk than would otherwise be the case if the Fund had investment restrictions mandating additional portfolio diversification.

Illiquidity of Limited Partner Interests

Because Limited Partner Interests of the Fund may not be withdrawn and may only be transferred prior to the Reporting Person Transaction with the approval of the General Partner (acting in its Sole Discretion), the Limited Partner Interests of the Fund are an illiquid investment and involve a high degree of risk. Moreover, the General Partner does not intend to make distributions of current income to the Partners. An investment in the Fund should be considered only by a person financially able to maintain his investment and which can afford the loss of all or a substantial part of such investment.

Lack of Transferability and Marketability of Limited Partner Interests

The Limited Partner Interests in the Fund have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities law of any State and, therefore, cannot be resold unless they are subsequently registered under the Securities Act or unless an exemption from registration is available. Apart from the possible Reporting Person Transaction, the Fund does not intend to register any of the Limited Partner Interests for resale under the Securities Act or to make public any information to permit resale of the Limited Partner Interests. Accordingly, the Limited Partner Interests have limited, if any, marketability. There is no public trading market for the Limited Partner Interests and none is anticipated to develop. In addition, Limited Partner Interests may not be used as collateral for a loan without the consent of the Fund and are subject to other restrictions on transfer. The Limited Partner Interests should be considered as a long-term investment. Even if the Reporting Person Transaction occurs, the securities issued in the Reorganization to investors who are not Affiliated Investors would not be registered for re-sale under the Securities Act and will be quoted on the OTCBB, the OTCQX or the NASDAQ Capital Market, which will limit the liquidity and price of our securities more than if such securities were quoted or listed on a national securities exchange. Lack of liquidity will limit the price at which investors may be able to sell their securities or their ability to sell their securities at all.

Absence of U.S. Regulatory Oversight

While the Fund may be considered similar to an investment company, it does not intend to register as such under the Investment Company Act in reliance upon certain exemptions available to private investment companies such as the Fund. Accordingly, substantially all of the provisions of the Investment Company Act (which, among other matters, require investment companies to have disinterested directors, require securities held in custody to at all times be individually segregated from the securities of any other person and marked to clearly identify such securities as the property of such investment company and regulate the relationship between the adviser and the investment company) will be inapplicable to the Fund, and the protections pursuant to the Investment Company Act will not be afforded to investors in the Fund. If the Fund were to be deemed an investment company under the Investment Company Act following the Reporting Person Transaction, it would be required to institute burdensome compliance requirements and the Fund's activities would be restricted, which may make it difficult for the Fund to continue operating.

General Partner's Non-Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the General Partner, any member of any Advisory Board appointed by the General Partner or any of their officers, directors, employees, stockholders or agents shall be liable to the Fund or any limited partner for any loss suffered by the Fund unless it shall be determined by final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further right to appeal that such loss is caused by gross negligence or willful misconduct of such person. The General Partner, any member of any Advisory Board appointed by the General Partner any of their officers, directors, employees, stockholders or agents may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of Fund affairs and, in acting in accordance with the written advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, such person shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, not be liable for any loss suffered by the Fund, provided that such counsel or accountants shall have been selected with reasonable care unless it is determined by final judicial decision on the merits from which there is no further right to appeal that such written advice was induced by such person's gross negligence or willful misconduct. To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the General Partner, any member of any Advisory Board appointed by the General Partner or any of their officers, directors, employees, stockholders or agents shall be liable for errors in judgment or for any acts or omissions that do not constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Conflicts of interest may arise between the Fund and the Limited Partners, on the one hand, and the General Partner and its affiliates, on the other. The resolution of these conflicts may not always be in the best interests of the Fund or the Limited Partners. In addition, the Partnership Agreement limits the liability of, and reduces or eliminates the duties (including fiduciary duties) owed by, the General Partner to the Fund and the Limited Partners. The Partnership Agreement also restricts the remedies available to Limited Partners for actions that might otherwise constitute breaches of the General Partner's duties (including fiduciary duties). By investing in the Fund, Limited Partners are treated as having consented to the provisions set forth in the Partnership Agreement, including the provisions regarding conflicts of interest situations that, in the absence of such provisions, might be considered a breach of fiduciary or other duties under applicable state law. For a more detailed description of the potential conflicts of interest and fiduciary responsibilities of the General Partner, see "Potential Conflicts of Interest and Fiduciary Responsibilities."

Certain Risks Specific to Portfolio Company Acquisitions

The Fund's ability to successfully execute Portfolio Company Acquisitions will be impacted by a number of factors, including the ability to identify acquisition candidates. The process of integrating acquired businesses into the Fund's existing operations may result in unforeseen operating difficulties and may require additional financial resources and attention. In addition, the Fund may not be able to realize the anticipated benefits from Portfolio Company Acquisitions. Achieving those benefits depends on the timely, efficient and successful execution of a number of post-acquisition events, including integrating the acquired business into the Fund. Factors that could affect the Fund's ability to achieve these benefits include:

- if the Fund pays too much to purchase Portfolio Companies;
- if the Fund's due diligence process is not sufficient to identify all material liabilities with respect to the business;
- new liabilities may arise that may diminish the value of the acquired Portfolio Companies;
- difficulties in integrating and managing personnel, financial reporting and other systems used by acquired Portfolio Companies;
- failure of acquired Portfolio Companies to perform in accordance with expectations;
- failure to achieve anticipated synergies;
- the loss of customers of acquired Portfolio Companies; and
- the loss of key managers of acquired Portfolio Companies.

If acquired Portfolio Companies do not operate as anticipated, it could materially impact the Fund's business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, acquired Portfolio Companies may operate in industries in which the General Partner has little or no experience. In such instances, the Fund will be highly dependent on existing managers and employees to manage those businesses, and the loss of any key managers or employees of the acquired Portfolio Company could have a material adverse effect on the Fund's financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and liquidity.

The indemnification provisions of acquisition agreements by which the Fund acquires Portfolio Companies may not fully protect the Fund and may result in unexpected liabilities.

The General Partner will have the authority, acting in its Sole Discretion, to issue additional Limited Partnership Interests in consideration for some or all of the purchase price for Portfolio Company Acquisitions and/or Follow-On Investments. Although the General Partner will set the prices for all such additional Limited Partnership Interests in good faith, any such issuances may lead to significant dilution to the existing Limited Partners of the Fund.

Market Risks

The Fund will be exposed significantly to all of the risks of investing in securities, including the risk that significant changes in the securities markets may adversely affect performance of the Fund. Therefore, there is a risk that investors in the Fund may not profit from their investment or that they may lose some or all of their investment.

Lack of Diversification of Fund Investments

The Fund's portfolio will not generally be diversified among a wide range of issuers, industries or areas. Accordingly, the investment portfolio of the Fund may be subject to more rapid change in value than would be the case if the Fund were required to maintain a wide diversification among investment areas, securities and types of securities and other instruments.

Lack of Liquidity of Fund Assets

Fund assets may, at any given time, consist of significant amounts of securities and other financial instruments or obligations which are thinly-traded or for which no market exists and/or which are restricted as to their transferability under applicable securities laws. The sale of any such investments may be possible only at substantial discounts and it may be extremely difficult to accurately value any such investments.

Small Cap Stocks

At any given time, the Fund may have investments in smaller sized companies of a less seasoned nature whose securities are traded in the over-the-counter market. These "secondary" securities often involve significantly greater risks than the securities of larger, better-known companies.

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund will purchase and sell securities at such times as the General Partner deems in the best interest of the Fund without regard to portfolio turnover, as to which there are no restrictions. To the extent that the Fund trades securities for the short-term, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate can be expected to increase. The turnover rate may vary from year to year, and at different times during the same year, and may also be affected by cash requirements for distributions upon liquidation or redemption of an investment interests in the Fund. A high turnover rate involves correspondingly greater brokerage commissions and expenses which must be borne directly by the Fund and ultimately by the Fund's investors.

Claims of Creditors

In the event of dissolution or termination of Fund, the proceeds, if any, realized from the liquidation of assets will be distributed to the investors in the Fund only after satisfaction of the claims of creditors. Accordingly, the ability of investors in the Fund to recover all or any portion of their investment upon dissolution or termination will depend upon the amount of funds realized by the Fund and the claims of creditors to be satisfied therefrom.

Representation by Attorneys and Accountants

The Fund and the General Partner are not represented by separate counsel or accountants. See "Potential Conflicts of Interest and Fiduciary Responsibilities." Therefore, investors should retain their own legal and tax advisers, since the legal counsel and accountants for the Fund have not been retained, and will not be available, to provide personal legal counsel or personal tax advice to investors.

CERTAIN U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain U.S. federal income tax considerations to prospective Limited Partners in the Fund. The Fund has not sought a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") nor from any other federal, state or local agency with respect to any of the tax issues affecting the Fund or its Partners, nor has it obtained an opinion of counsel with respect to any tax issues. Except as described in "—Reorganization," below, the following summary does not apply to the Successor Company that will be formed in connection with the Reporting Person Transaction.

This summary of certain aspects of the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"), judicial decisions, Treasury regulations, and rulings or other administrative authorities by the Service that are in existence on the date hereof, all of which are subject to change, including retroactively. This summary does not discuss the impact of various proposals to amend the Code which could change certain of the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. This summary also does not discuss all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, to investors that acquire Limited Partner Interests other than for cash or to certain investors subject to special treatment under the U.S. federal income tax laws, such as insurance companies.

THIS SUMMARY IS FOR GENERAL INFORMATIONAL PURPOSES ONLY. EACH PROSPECTIVE LIMITED PARTNER SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISER IN ORDER TO FULLY UNDERSTAND THE FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND FOREIGN INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND.

In addition to the particular matters set forth in this section, tax-exempt organizations should review carefully those sections of this Memorandum regarding liquidity and other financial matters to ascertain whether the investment objective of the Fund is consistent with their overall investment plans. Each prospective tax-exempt Limited Partner is urged to consult its own adviser regarding the acquisition of Limited Partner Interests and in particular the potential recognition of unrelated business taxable income as a result of an investment in the Fund.

Circular 230 Disclosure

In order to ensure compliance with requirements imposed by the Service under Circular 230 Standards of Practice, we inform you that (A) any discussion of U.S. federal tax issues contained herein is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used by you, for the purpose of avoiding any penalties asserted under the Code; and (B) any discussion contained herein was written to support the promotion or marketing of this Offering. Potential investors should seek advice from, and rely solely upon, their own independent tax advisor with respect to the U.S. federal, state, and local tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Limited Partner Interests based on such investor's particular circumstances.

Tax Treatment of Fund Operations

Classification of the Fund. It is anticipated that the Fund will be classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and not as an association taxable as a corporation, and the discussion below assumes such treatment. The Fund could be required to be classified as a corporation only if it is treated as a "publicly traded partnership," which is a partnership whose interests are either traded on an established securities market or are readily tradable on a secondary market or the substantial equivalent thereof. A "publicly traded partnership" will not, however, be treated as a corporation for any taxable year if 90% or more of the partnership's gross income for such year consists of certain passive-type income, including interest, dividends and capital gain. Treasury regulations provide limited safe harbors from the definition of a "publicly traded partnership". Pursuant to one of those safe harbors, interests in a partnership will not be treated as readily tradable on a secondary market or the substantial equivalent thereof if (1) all interests in the partnership were issued in a transaction or transactions that were not required to be registered under the Securities Act, and (2) the partnership does not have more than 100 partners at any time during the partnership's taxable year. The Fund is not required to and does not intend to register the Limited Partner Interests under the Securities Act. In addition, the Fund does not intend to have more than 100 partners during any taxable year. Based on both the amount of passive-type income expected to be earned by the Fund and the fact that it is expected that interests in the partnership will not be treated as readily tradable on any secondary market, it is anticipated that the Fund will not be treated as a "publicly traded partnership" taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If it were determined that the Fund should be treated as an association or a "publicly traded partnership" taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the taxable income of the Fund would be subject to corporate income tax when recognized by the Fund, distributions from the Fund to Partners would be treated as dividend income when received by the Partners to the extent of the Fund's current or accumulated earnings and profits (other than in certain redemptions of Fund interests) and Partners would not be entitled to report profits or losses recognized by the Fund.

As a partnership, the Fund is not itself subject to U.S. federal income tax. Each Limited Partner will be taxed upon its distributive share of each item of the Fund's income, gain, loss and deductions allocated to the Fund (including from investments in other partnerships) for each taxable year of the Fund ending with or within the Limited Partner's taxable year. Each item will have the same character to a Limited Partner, and will generally have the same source (either U.S. or foreign), as though the Limited Partner realized the item directly. Limited Partners must report these items regardless of the extent to which, or whether, the Fund or Limited Partners receive cash distributions for such taxable year, and thus may incur income tax liabilities unrelated to any distributions to or from the Fund. Unless otherwise indicated, references in the following discussion to the tax consequences of Fund investments, activities, income, gain and loss, include the direct investments, activities, income, gain and loss of the Fund, and those indirectly attributable to the Fund.

Allocation of Profits and Losses. Under the Partnership Agreement, the Fund's net income or loss for each fiscal period, and all items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit generally will be allocated among the Partners consistent with the manner in which distributions will be made as described above under the heading "The Partnership Agreement—Distributions" and consistent with Treasury regulations issued under Sections 704(b) and 704(c) of the Code. A Partner may be allocated income or gain for U.S. income tax purposes without a corresponding cash distribution.

Tax Elections; Returns; Tax Audits. The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner shall have the exclusive authority and discretion to make any elections required or permitted to be made by the Fund under any provisions of the Code or the Treasury regulations.

The General Partner shall decide how to report the partnership items on the Fund's tax returns, and all Partners are required under the Code to treat the items consistently on their own tax returns, unless they file a statement with the Service disclosing the inconsistency. In the event the income tax returns of the Fund are audited by the Service, the tax treatment of the Fund's income and deductions generally is determined at the partnership level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Partners. The General Partner, designated as the "Tax Matters Partner," has considerable authority to make decisions affecting the tax treatment and procedural rights of all Partners. In addition, the Tax Matters Partner has the authority to bind certain Partners to settlement agreements and has the right on behalf of all Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Partners' tax liabilities with respect to Fund items.

Taxation of Limited Partners

Each Limited Partner will report on its federal income tax return its distributive share of the Fund's items of income, gain, loss, deduction, and credit for the taxable year, whether or not it receives any distributions from the Fund. The character for such items, determined at the Fund level, will pass through to the Limited Partners (for example, Limited Partners will treat as interest, dividends or capital gain, their distributive shares of such items recognized by the Fund).

Distributions from the Fund, whether made currently or upon liquidation of the Fund, generally may be received by a Limited Partner without further tax. The general rules relating to the tax treatment of distributions to the Limited Partners may be summarized as follows:

(A) Cash distributions generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner except to the extent they exceed the Limited Partner's tax basis in its interest in the Fund. Cash distributions will reduce the Limited Partner's tax basis in such interest, but not below zero. The excess generally would be taxable as long-term or short-term capital gain, depending on the Limited Partner's holding period for its interest. A Limited Partner receiving a cash liquidating distribution from the Fund, in connection with a complete withdrawal from the Fund, will recognize ordinary income to the extent such Limited Partner's allocable share of the Fund's "unrealized receivables" exceeds the Limited Partner's tax basis in such unrealized receivables, as determined pursuant to the Treasury regulations. For these purposes, accrued but untaxed market discount, if any, on securities held by the Fund will be treated as an unrealized receivable with respect to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

(B) In-kind distributions of portfolio securities or other assets of the Fund generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner. An in-kind distribution of property in complete or partial liquidation of a Limited Partner's interest in the Fund generally will also not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner, except to the extent such distribution is treated as made in exchange for such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's unrealized receivables. A distribution consisting of marketable securities generally is treated as a distribution of cash (rather than property) unless the distributing partnership is an "investment partnership" and the recipient Limited Partner is an "eligible partner" within the meaning of the Code. The Fund will determine at the appropriate time whether it qualifies as an "investment partnership". Assuming it so qualifies, if a Limited Partner is an "eligible partner," which term should include a Limited Partner whose contributions to the Fund consisted solely of cash, the rule treating a distribution of property as a distribution of cash would not apply.

(C) For purposes of determining a Limited Partner's gain or loss on a subsequent sale of the Fund's assets (i.e., marketable securities not treated as cash, non-marketable securities, or other property) that are distributed in-kind (other than in liquidation of the Limited Partner's entire interest in the Fund), the Limited Partner's tax basis in such assets generally will equal the Fund's adjusted tax basis in the assets or, if less, the Limited Partner's tax basis in its interest in the Fund immediately before the distribution. A Limited Partner's tax basis in assets distributed in liquidation of its interest in the Fund generally will equal its tax basis in its interest in the Fund immediately before the distribution. The Limited Partner's holding period for assets distributed without the recognition of gain will include the period during which the assets were held by the Fund.

(D) No loss will be recognized by a Limited Partner upon the receipt of a distribution from the Fund except where the distribution is a liquidating distribution consisting solely of cash in connection with a complete withdrawal from the Fund and the amount of cash is less than the Limited Partner's tax basis in its interest in the Fund immediately before the distribution.

Foreign Investors

The U.S. federal income tax consequences to a foreign investor generally will depend upon whether the Fund is engaged in a U.S. trade or business for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A foreign investor means an investor who is not a U.S. person and generally includes a nonresident alien individual, a foreign corporation, a foreign partnership, and a foreign trust or estate, unless the investor has certified to the Fund the investor's status as a U.S. person on Form W-9 or any other form permitted by the Service for that purpose. The Fund generally expects that it will be deemed to be an investor, and therefore not engaged in a trade or business within the United States, although there can be no assurance in this regard.

If the Fund is deemed to be an investor, a foreign investor that is not itself engaged in a U.S. trade or business during the taxable year generally should not be subject to U.S. federal income tax or withholding with respect to capital gains earned by the Fund and allocated to such a foreign investor, but may be subject to taxation by the jurisdiction in which the foreign investor is resident, organized or operating. Additionally, a foreign investor that is not engaged in a trade or business within the United States is generally not subject to U.S. tax on interest income realized by the Fund if such interest qualifies for the "portfolio interest" exemption under Sections 871(h) and 881(c) of the Code, and certain other requirements are met.

In the event that the Fund were found to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business, a foreign investor will be deemed to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States as a result of its investment in the Fund. As a result, the foreign investor generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on its allocable share of the Fund's net income and capital gains and will be required to file a U.S. federal income tax return for such year. Furthermore, the Fund would be required to withhold U.S. federal income tax on the income or gain allocable to the foreign investor under Section 1446 of the Code at the maximum rate applicable to such investor on the income earned, even if no cash distributions are made to it. In the case of a foreign investor which is a foreign corporation, an additional 30% branch profits tax may be imposed.

Any foreign person or entity that is considering acquiring Limited Partner Interests in the Fund should consult its own tax advisors with respect to the U.S. federal, state, and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund and the consequences under the laws of any jurisdictions in which such person or entity is subject to tax.

Tax Treatment of Fund Investments

In General. The Fund expects to act as a trader or investor, and not as a dealer, with respect to its securities transactions. A trader and an investor are persons who buy and sell securities for their own accounts. A dealer, on the other hand, is a person who purchases securities for resale to customers rather than for investment or speculation. The Fund generally expects that it will be deemed to be an investor rather than a trader, although there can be no assurance in this regard.

Generally, the gains and losses realized by a trader or investor on the sale of securities are capital gains and losses. Thus, subject to the treatment of certain currency exchange gains as ordinary income and certain other transactions described below, the Fund expects that its gains and losses from its securities transactions typically will be capital gains and capital losses. See "—Currency Fluctuations 'Section 988' Gains or Losses" below and certain other transactions described below. These capital gains and losses may be long-term or short-term depending, in general, upon the length of time a particular investment position is maintained and, in some cases, upon the nature of the transaction. Property held for more than one year generally will be eligible for long-term capital gain or loss treatment. The application of certain rules relating to short sales, to so-called "straddle" and "wash sale" transactions and to "Section 1256 contracts" may serve to alter the manner in which the holding period for a security is determined or may otherwise affect the characterization as long-term or short-term, and also the timing of the realization, of certain gains or losses. Moreover, the straddle rules and short sale rules may require the capitalization of certain related expenses.

The maximum federal ordinary income tax rate for individuals is currently 39.6%, and, in general, the maximum federal individual income tax rate for long-term capital gains (and qualified dividends from U.S. corporations and foreign corporations organized in jurisdictions with income tax treaties with the United States) is currently 20%, although in each case the actual rate may be higher due to the limitation of certain tax deductions and exemptions. See "—Limitation on Deductibility of Interest" below. The excess of capital losses over capital gains may be offset against the ordinary income of an individual taxpayer, subject to an annual deduction limitation of $3,000, and any excess may be carried forward to, and treated as capital losses in, future years. In addition, individual taxpayers with income of $200,000 or more or $250,000 or more for joint filers will be subject to an additional tax of 3.8% on "unearned income," including capital gains and dividends allocated to them under the Partnership Agreement. For corporate taxpayers, the maximum federal income tax rate is 35%. Capital losses of a corporate taxpayer may be offset only against capital gains, but unused capital losses may be carried back three years, subject to certain limitations, and carried forward five years.

The Fund may realize ordinary income from accruals of interest and dividends on securities. The Fund may hold debt obligations with "original issue discount." In such case, the Fund would be required to include amounts in taxable income on a current basis even though receipt of such amounts may occur in a subsequent year. The Fund also may acquire debt obligations with "market discount." Upon disposition of such an obligation, the Fund generally would be required to treat gain realized as interest income to the extent of the market discount which accrued during the period the debt obligation was held. The Fund may realize ordinary income or loss with respect to its investments in partnerships engaged in a trade or business. Income or loss from transactions involving derivative instruments, such as swap transactions, also may constitute ordinary income or loss. In addition, periodic amounts payable by the Fund in connection with equity swaps, interest rate swaps, caps, floors and collars likely would be considered "miscellaneous itemized deductions" which, for a noncorporate Partner, may be subject to restrictions on their deductibility. See "—Deductibility of Fund Investment Expenditures by Noncorporate Partners" below. Moreover, gain recognized from "conversion transactions," which are certain transactions where substantially all of the taxpayer's return is attributable to the time value of the net investment in the transaction, is treated as ordinary income.

Currency Fluctuations "Section 988" Gains or Losses. The amount of gain or loss on securities denominated in a foreign currency frequently will be affected by the fluctuation in the value of such foreign currencies relative to the value of the U.S. dollar. Generally, gains or losses with respect to investments in common stock of foreign issuers will be taxed as capital gains or losses at the time of the disposition of such stock. However, under Section 988 of the Code, gains and losses on the acquisition and disposition of foreign currency (e.g., the purchase of foreign currency and subsequent use of the currency to acquire stock) will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Moreover, under Section 988 of the Code, gains or losses on disposition of debt securities denominated in a foreign currency to the extent attributable to fluctuations in the value of the foreign currency between the date of acquisition of the debt security and the date of disposition will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Similarly, gains or losses attributable to fluctuations in exchange rates that occur between the time the Fund accrues interest or other receivables or accrues expenses or other liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and the time the Fund actually collects such receivables or pays such liabilities may be treated as ordinary income or ordinary loss.

Limitation on Deductibility of Interest. For noncorporate taxpayers, Section 163(d) of the Code limits the deduction for "investment interest" (i.e., interest and short sale expenses "paid or accrued on indebtedness properly allocable to property held for investment"). Investment interest is not deductible in the current year to the extent that it exceeds the taxpayer's "net investment income," consisting of generally net gain and ordinary income derived from investments in the current year. For this purpose, long-term capital gains and qualified dividend income are excluded from investment income unless and to the extent that the taxpayer elects to pay tax on such income at ordinary income tax rates.

For purposes of this provision, the Fund's activities will be treated as giving rise to investment income for a Partner, and the investment interest limitation would apply to a noncorporate Limited Partner's share of the interest and short sale expenses attributable to the Fund's operation. In such case, a noncorporate Limited Partner would be denied a deduction for all or part of that portion of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and short sale expenses unless it has sufficient investment income from all sources including the Fund. A Limited Partner that cannot deduct losses currently as a result of the application of Section 163(d) of the Code would be entitled to carry forward such losses to future years, subject to the same limitation. The investment interest limitation would also apply to interest paid by a noncorporate Limited Partner on money borrowed to finance its investment in the Fund. Potential investors are advised to consult with their own tax advisers with respect to the application of the investment interest limitation to their particular tax situation.

Limitation on Deductibility of Distributive Shares of Losses. The amount of any Fund loss allocable to a Limited Partner that can be claimed as a deduction by such Limited Partner may be limited by (i) the adjusted basis that a Limited Partner has in its interest in the Fund for the taxable year; (ii) the amount that a Limited Partner is considered "at risk" with respect to the Fund's activities under Section 465 of the Code, if applicable; and (iii) the extent to which a Limited Partner is subject to the limitations on "passive activity" losses contained in Section 469 of the Code, if applicable. The tax basis that a Limited Partner will have in its interest in the Fund will initially equal the amount that it contributed to the Fund increased by (i) income allocated to the Limited Partner and (ii) any increase in the Limited Partner's share of the Fund's liabilities, and decreased (but not below zero) by (i) distributions, losses and expenses allocated to the Limited Partner and (ii) any decrease in the Limited Partner's share of the Fund's liabilities.

Deductibility of Fund Investment Expenditures by Noncorporate Partners. Investment expenses (e.g., investment advisory fees) of an individual, trust and estate are miscellaneous itemized deductions that are deductible only to the extent they exceed 2% of adjusted gross income and are not deductible at all for alternative minimum tax purposes. In addition, the itemized deductions of individuals with income over a specified amount will be further reduced by the lesser of (i) 3% of the excess of their adjusted gross income over the specified amount or (ii) 80% of the amount of the itemized deductions otherwise allowable for the taxable year.

Pursuant to Temporary Treasury regulations, these limitations on deductibility of investment expenses should not apply to a noncorporate Limited Partner's share of the expenses of a partnership to the extent that the partnership is engaged in a trade or business. The Fund expects that it will be deemed to be an investor rather than as engaged in a trade or business as a trader. As a result, it is anticipated that all of the Fund expenses allocable to a Limited Partner will be subject to these limitations. The consequences of these limitations will vary depending upon the particular tax situation of each Limited Partner. Accordingly, noncorporate Limited Partners should consult their tax advisers with respect to the application of these limitations.

Investments in Foreign Corporations. Pursuant to various "anti-deferral" provisions of the Code (the "Subpart F" and "passive foreign investment company" provisions), investments, if any, by the Fund in certain foreign corporations may cause a Limited Partner to (i) recognize taxable income prior to the Fund's or the Limited Partner's receipt of distributable proceeds, (ii) pay an interest charge on receipts that are deemed to have been deferred or (iii) recognize ordinary income that, but for the "anti-deferral" provisions, would have been treated as long-term capital gain.

The Reorganization

If the Initial Acquisition is completed by the Initial Acquisition Deadline, the General Partner will have the authority to convert the Fund into a corporation that is taxable as a corporation rather than a partnership, referred to as the Successor Company, and cause the common stock of the Successor Company to be registered in the Reporting Person Transaction. If the Reorganization occurs, the Limited Partner Interests will be converted into common stock of the Successor Company. Generally, neither the Fund nor the Successor Company should recognize any gain or loss in connection with the Reorganization. In addition, the Limited Partners generally should not recognize gain or loss in connection with the Reorganization, except that gain may be recognized by a Limited Partner to the extent that any money distributed or deemed distributed pursuant to Section 752 of the Code to the Limited Partner in connection with the Reorganization exceeds the adjusted basis of such Limited Partner's interest in the Fund immediately before the Reorganization. After the Reorganization, the Limited Partners will become stockholders of the Successor Company and, therefore, will no longer be allocated income or deductions attributable to the Fund. Distributions from the Successor Company generally will be taxable as dividends if made from the Successor Company's current or accumulated earnings and profits. In addition, the Successor Company will be subject to tax on its taxable income.

Prospective Limited Partners are urged to consult their tax advisers regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Reorganization in light of their particular circumstances.

Foreign Taxes

It is possible that certain dividends and interest received from sources within foreign countries will be subject to withholding taxes imposed by such countries. In addition, the Fund may be subject to capital gains or other taxes in some of the foreign countries where it purchases and sells securities. Tax treaties between certain countries and the United States may reduce or eliminate such taxes.

The Fund will inform the Limited Partners of their proportionate share of the foreign taxes paid or incurred by the Fund that the Limited Partners will be required to include in their income. The Limited Partners generally will be entitled to claim either a credit (subject to various limitations on foreign tax credits discussed below including a holding period requirement) or, if they itemize their deductions, a deduction (subject to the limitations generally applicable to deductions) for their share of such foreign taxes in computing their U.S. federal income taxes. A Limited Partner that is tax exempt will not ordinarily benefit from such credit or deduction.

Generally, a credit for foreign taxes is subject to the limitation that it may not exceed the Limited Partner's U.S. federal tax, before the credit, attributable to its total foreign source taxable income. A Limited Partner's share of dividends and interest from non-U.S. securities generally will qualify as foreign source income. Generally, the source of gain and loss realized upon the sale of personal property, such as securities, will be based on the residence of the seller. In the case of a partnership, the determining factor is the residence of the partner. Thus, absent a tax treaty to the contrary, gains and losses from the sale of securities allocable to a Limited Partner that is a U.S. resident generally will be treated as derived from U.S. sources even though the securities are sold in foreign countries, except that certain U.S. residents may be subject to dividend recapture rules under which such losses could be treated as foreign source to the extent the U.S. resident received dividends during the 24-month period ending on the date of sale. Certain currency fluctuation gains, including fluctuation gains from foreign currency denominated debt securities, receivables and payables, will also be treated as ordinary income derived from U.S. sources.

The limitation on the foreign tax credit is applied separately to foreign source passive income, such as dividends and interest, and to certain other types of income. In addition, the foreign tax credit is allowed to offset only 90% of the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations and individuals. Furthermore, for foreign tax credit limitation purposes, the amount of a Limited Partner's foreign source income is reduced by various deductions that are allocated and/or apportioned to such foreign source income. One such deduction is interest expense, a portion of which generally will reduce the foreign source income of any Limited Partner who owns (directly or indirectly) foreign assets. For these purposes, foreign assets owned by the Fund will be treated as owned by the investors in the Fund and indebtedness incurred by the Fund will be treated as incurred by investors in the Fund. Because of these limitations, Limited Partners may be unable to claim a credit for the full amount of their proportionate share of the foreign taxes paid by the Fund. The foregoing is only a general description of the foreign tax credit rules under current law. Moreover, because the availability of a credit or deduction depends on the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner, Limited Partners are advised to consult their own tax advisers.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income

Generally, an exempt organization is exempt from U.S. federal income tax on its passive investment income, such as dividends, interest and capital gains, whether realized by the organization directly or indirectly through a partnership in which it is a partner. This general exemption from tax does not apply to the unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") of an exempt organization. Generally, UBTI includes income or gain derived, either directly or through partnerships, from a trade or business, the conduct of which is substantially unrelated to the exercise or performance of the organization's exempt purpose or function. UBTI also includes "unrelated debt-financed income," which generally consists of (i) income derived by an exempt organization, directly or through a partnership, from income- producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year, and (ii) gains derived by an exempt organization, directly or through a partnership, from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the 12-month period ending with the date of such disposition. With respect to the Fund's investments in partnerships engaged in a trade or business, the Fund's income or loss from these investments may constitute UBTI.

The Fund may incur "acquisition indebtedness" with respect to certain transactions, such as the purchase of securities on margin. Based upon a published ruling issued by the Service which generally holds that income and gain with respect to short sales of publicly traded stock does not constitute income from debt financed property for purposes of computing UBTI, short sales of securities will be treated as not involving "acquisition indebtedness" and therefore not generating UBTI. The percentage of income (i.e., dividends and interest) from securities with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" during a taxable year which will be treated as UBTI generally will be based on the percentage which the "average acquisition indebtedness" incurred with respect to such securities is to the "average amount of the adjusted basis" of such securities during the taxable year.

The percentage of capital gain from securities with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the twelve-month period ending with the date of their disposition which will be treated as UBTI will be based on the percentage which the highest amount of such "acquisition indebtedness" is to the "average amount of the adjusted basis" of such securities during the taxable year. In determining the unrelated debt-financed income of the Fund, an allocable portion of deductions directly connected with the Fund's debt-financed property is taken into account. Thus, for instance, a percentage of capital losses from debt-financed securities, based on the debt/basis percentage calculation described above, would offset gains treated as UBTI.

Since the calculation of the Fund's "unrelated debt-financed income" is complex and will depend in large part on the amount of leverage, if any, used by the Fund from time to time, it is impossible to predict what percentage of the Fund's income and gains will be treated as UBTI for a Limited Partner which is an exempt organization. An exempt organization's share of the income or gains of the Fund which is treated as UBTI may not be offset by losses of the exempt organization either from the Fund or otherwise, unless such losses are treated as attributable to an unrelated trade or business (e.g., losses from securities for which there is acquisition indebtedness).

To the extent that the Fund generates UBTI, the applicable U.S. federal income tax rate for such a Limited Partner generally would be either the corporate or trust tax rate depending upon the classification of the particular exempt organization. An exempt organization may be required to support, to the satisfaction of the Service, the method used to calculate its UBTI. The Fund will be required to report to a Limited Partner which is an exempt organization information as to the portion of its income and gains from the Fund for each year which will be treated as UBTI. The calculation of such amount with respect to transactions entered into by the Fund is highly complex, and there is no assurance that the Fund's calculation of UBTI will be accepted by the Service.

In general, if UBTI is allocated to an exempt organization such as a qualified retirement plan or a private foundation, the portion of the Fund's income and gains which is not treated as UBTI will continue to be exempt from tax, as will the organization's income and gains from other investments which are not treated as UBTI. Therefore, the possibility of realizing UBTI from its investment in the Fund generally should not affect the tax-exempt status of such an exempt organization. However, a charitable remainder trust will not be exempt from U.S. federal income tax under Section 664(c) of the Code for any year in which it has UBTI. Moreover, the charitable contribution deduction for a trust under Section 642(c) of the Code may be limited for any year in which the trust has UBTI. Prospective Limited Partners that are tax exempt should consult their tax adviser with respect to the tax consequences of receiving UBTI from the Fund.

State, Local and Non-U.S. Taxation

In addition to the U.S. federal income tax consequences described above, prospective Limited Partners should consider potential state, local and non-U.S. tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. State, local and non-U.S. laws may differ from U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. Prospective Limited Partners are urged to consult with their tax advisors regarding any state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Tax Shelter Disclosure

Taxpayers, including partnerships, who participate in a "reportable transaction" must disclose the transaction by attaching a form to its tax return and by filing the form with the IRS. Reportable transactions include listed transactions, confidential transactions, transactions with contractual protection, transactions that result in substantial losses, and transactions of interest. The Fund does not currently anticipate that it will engage in transactions that require such disclosure but there are no assurances in that regard. Disclosure under these rules will not change the amount of tax owed by a Limited Partner. However, such disclosure may increase the risk of audit to the Fund and the Limited Partners.

ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

Persons who are fiduciaries with respect to an employee benefit plan or other arrangement subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (an "ERISA Plan" and "ERISA," respectively), and persons who are fiduciaries with respect to an IRA, Keogh plan or other plan or arrangement, which is not subject to ERISA but is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of Section 4975 of the Code (together with ERISA Plans, and any entity where underlying assets include plan assets by reason of a plan's investment in the entity, "Benefit Plans") should consider, among other things, the matters described below before determining whether to invest in the Fund.

ERISA imposes certain general and specific responsibilities on persons who are fiduciaries with respect to an ERISA Plan, including prudence, diversification, an obligation not to engage in a prohibited transaction and other standards. In determining whether a particular investment is appropriate for an ERISA Plan, Department of Labor ("DOL") regulations provide that a fiduciary of an ERISA Plan must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that the investment plays in the ERISA Plan's portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed reasonably to further the ERISA Plan's purposes, an examination of the risk and return factors, the portfolio's composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the ERISA Plan, the income tax consequences of the investment (see "CERTAIN U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS—Unrelated Business Taxable Income") and the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the ERISA Plan's funding objectives. Before investing the assets of an ERISA Plan in the Fund, a fiduciary should determine whether such an investment is consistent with its fiduciary responsibilities and the foregoing regulations. For example, a fiduciary should consider whether an investment in the Fund may be too illiquid or too speculative for a particular ERISA Plan, and whether the assets of the ERISA Plan would be sufficiently diversified. If a fiduciary with respect to any such ERISA Plan breaches its or his responsibilities with regard to selecting an investment or an investment course of action for such ERISA Plan, the fiduciary itself or himself may be held liable for losses incurred by the ERISA Plan as a result of such breach.

Investment Fund interests held by the Fund are not expected to be "plan assets" (as defined in ERISA and applicable regulations) of a Limited Partner that is a Benefit Plan because the General Partner will limit investment by Benefit Plan investors to less than 25% of the overall value of the Fund (disregarding the interest of the General Partner and its affiliates). The General Partner will require prospective Limited Partners to represent whether or not they are Benefit Plan investors, whether any person who has authority or control over the assets of the Benefit Plan or gives investment advice to the Benefit Plan for a fee (or any affiliate of such a person) is also an investor, and will require a Benefit Plan which proposes to invest in the Fund to represent that it, and any fiduciaries responsible for such Plan's investments, are aware of and understand the Fund's investment objective, policies and strategies, that the decision to invest plan assets in the Fund was made with appropriate consideration of relevant investment factors with regard to the Benefit Plan and is consistent with the duties and responsibilities imposed upon fiduciaries with regard to their investment decisions under ERISA and/or the Code.

Certain prospective Benefit Plan investors may currently maintain relationships with the General Partner or other entities which are affiliated with the General Partner. Each of such persons may be deemed to be a party in interest to and/or a fiduciary of any Benefit Plan to which it provides investment management, investment advisory or other services. ERISA prohibits (and the Code penalizes) the use of ERISA and Benefit Plan assets for the benefit of a party in interest and also prohibits (or penalizes) an ERISA or Benefit Plan fiduciary from using its position to cause such Plan to make an investment from which it or certain third parties in which such fiduciary has an interest would receive a fee or other consideration. Benefit Plan investors should consult with their counsel to determine if participation in the Fund is a transaction which is prohibited by ERISA or the Code. Fiduciaries of Benefit Plan investors will be required to represent that the decision to invest in the Fund was made by them as fiduciaries that are independent of such affiliated persons, that such fiduciaries are duly authorized to make such investment decision and that they have not relied on any individualized advice or recommendation of such affiliated persons as a primary basis for the decision to invest in the Fund.

The provisions of ERISA and the Code are subject to extensive and continuing administrative and judicial interpretation and review. The discussion of ERISA and the Code contained in this Memorandum is general and may be affected by future publication of regulations and rulings. Potential Benefit Plan investors should consult their legal advisers regarding the consequences under ERISA and the Code of the acquisition and ownership of interests.

PROCEDURE FOR BECOMING AN INVESTOR

To become a investor in the Fund, a prospective investor should: (i) complete and execute two copies of a Subscription Agreement for the Fund, inserting the amount of the investment agreed to be made by such investor and such investor's residence address and his taxpayer identification or social security number, if any; and (ii) return such materials, together with the investor's wire transfer of funds or check for the amount of the investment in accordance with the instructions set forth in the Subscription Agreement.

The Administrator may take such steps as it considers necessary to comply with international standards for the prevention of money laundering. Hence, investors may be required to furnish adequate documents to evidence their identity and address and information relating to the source of the monies to be invested. Failure to provide such information or documentation in a timely manner could result in a delay in the issue of Limited Partner Interests or a refusal to issue Limited Partner Interests in the Fund.

It should also be noted that the General Partner may pay fees to persons (whether or not affiliated with the General Partner) who are instrumental in the sale of interests in an Investment Fund. None of such fees will in any event be payable by or chargeable to the Fund or to any investor.

This offering is not a public offering and is being made pursuant to an exemption from registration in accordance with Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act and Rule 506 of Regulation D promulgated thereunder. Relevant United States laws impose limitations on the persons who may purchase securities in this Offering. Each potential investor must qualify as an "accredited investor" within the meaning of Regulation D under the Securities Act and a "qualified client" under Rule 205-3 under the Advisers Act. Effective April 21, 2021, the General Partner decided to permanently waive its collection of Carried Interest in the Partnership and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser, L.P. This waiver does not impact at all the General Partner's right to and ownership of its share of pro-rata carried interest earned by Dhandho Funds, LLC by virtue of the General Partner's look-through ownership of Dhandho Funds, LLC.

An accredited investor is:

1. Any U.S. bank or any banking institution organized under the laws of any State, territory or the District of Columbia, the business of which is substantially confined to banking and is supervised by the State or territorial banking commission or similar official agency, any U.S. savings and loan association or other similar institution, whether acting in its individual or fiduciary capacity; any broker or dealer registered pursuant to Section 15 of the Exchange Act; any U.S. insurance company; any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act or a business development company as defined in the Investment Company Act; any Small Business Investment Partnership licensed by the U.S. Small Business Administration under the Small Business Investment Act of 1958; any plan established and maintained by a state, its political subdivisions, or any agency or instrumentality of a state or its political subdivisions, for the benefit of its employees, if such plan has total assets in excess of $5 million; any employee benefit plan within the meaning of ERISA, if the investment decision is made by a plan fiduciary, as defined in ERISA, which is either a bank, savings and loan association, insurance company, or registered investment adviser, or if the employee benefit plan has total assets in excess of $5 million; or, if a self-directed plan, with investment decisions made solely by persons that are accredited investors;

2. Any "private business development company" as defined in the Advisers Act;

3. Any organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code, corporation, Massachusetts or similar business trust, or partnership, not formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the securities offered, with total capital in excess of $5 million;

4. The General Partner and certain affiliates of the General Partner;

5. Any natural person whose net worth, either individually or jointly with such person's spouse, at the time of his or her purchase, exceeds $1 million, excluding the value of the primary residence of such natural person, calculated by subtracting from the estimated fair market value of the property the amount of debt secured by the property, up to the estimated fair market value of the property;

6. Any natural person who had an individual income in excess of $200,000 in each of the two most recent years or joint income with that person's spouse in excess of $300,000 in each of those years and has a reasonable expectation of reaching the same income level in the current year;

7. Any trust with total assets in excess of $5 million not formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the securities offered, whose purchase is directed by a sophisticated person as described in Regulation D; or

8. Any entity all of whose equity owners satisfy one or more of such requirements (1) through (7) above.

A qualified client is:

1. A natural person who, or a company that, immediately after acquiring Limited Partnership Interests, has at least $1.1 million under management with the General Partner;

2. A natural person who, or a company that, the General Partner reasonably believes, immediately prior to acquiring Limited Partnership Interests, either:

(a) has a net worth, either individually or jointly with such person's spouse, of $2.2 million, excluding the value of the primary residence of such natural person, calculated by subtracting from the estimated fair market value of the property the amount of debt secured by the property, up to the estimated fair market value of the property; or

(b) is a "qualified purchaser" as defined in section 2(a)(51)(A) of the Investment Company Act at the time the contract is entered into (generally an individual with investments of $5 million or an entity with $25 million in investments); or

The General Partner and certain affiliates of the General Partner.

Item 2: Material Changes

Since its last brochure dated March 31, 2025, Pabrai Investment Funds has made no material changes to its brochure.

Item 3: Table of Contents

Item 4: Advisory Business

A. General Description of Advisory Firm

Dalal Street, LLC, which does business as Pabrai Investment Funds, is a limited liability company (the "Adviser") that was formed on May 1, 2005 in California. Effective July 8, 2021, the Adviser converted from a California limited liability company to a Texas limited liability company. There was no practical change in control or management of the Adviser as a result of the conversion. The owner of the Adviser is Mohnish Pabrai. The Adviser provides investment management services to limited partnerships or companies (each, a "Client" or "Private Fund," and, collectively, the "Clients" or "Private Funds") organized under the laws of the United States or the British Virgin Islands. The Adviser serves as general partner to or manager of each Client and tailors its advisory services as described in the relevant Client's private placement memorandum and/or as set forth in such Client's organizational documents. Please refer to Item 8 for a more detailed description of the Adviser's management strategies as well as the securities and other instruments purchased by the Adviser on behalf of the Clients.

As of the date hereof, the Adviser provides investment management services to the following Clients: The Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P., Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd., The Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P. (collectively "Pabrai Funds"), Dhandho Holdings Offshore Ltd., operating as a master-feeder structure, investing substantially all of its assets within Dhandho Holdings, L.P., and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser, L.P., a parallel fund to Dhandho Holdings L.P. (collectively "Dhandho Holdings"). The Adviser also manages two proprietary accounts.

B. Description of Advisory Services

See Item 8.

C. Availability of Customized Services for Individual Clients

The Adviser tailors its advisory services as described in the relevant Client's private placement memorandum and/or as set forth in such Client's organizational documents.

The Adviser may provide co-investment opportunities to certain underlying investors in Dhandho Holdings (each, a "Dhandho Holdings Investor" and collectively with the underlying investors in the Pabrai Funds, the "Investors") but need not make such investment opportunities available to all Dhandho Holdings Investors pro rata or on a uniform basis.

Advisory services for each Client are not tailored to the individual needs of Investors. Investors may not impose restrictions on the Adviser with respect to the investments it makes on behalf of the Clients.

Persons reviewing this Form ADV Part 2A should not construe this as an offering of any of the Clients described herein, which will only be made pursuant to the delivery of a private placement memorandum to prospective investors.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

The Adviser does not participate in wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

The Adviser's collective Client regulatory assets under management as of December 31, 2025 were $936,286,116, all of which are managed on a discretionary basis.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

A. Advisory Allocations

For the Pabrai Funds, the Adviser is generally entitled to receive an advisory allocation of 25% of the increase in a Client's net assets over an annual rate of 6%, subject to a "high water mark". Such fees are not negotiable.

In addition to the fee described above, the Adviser is entitled to an annual management fee set by the Adviser of up to 1% of the capital contributions for Dhandho Holdings. The management fee is intended to cover the costs and expenses of the general partner incurred in connection with the management of Dhandho Holdings. The management fee will be offset by any directors' fees, consulting and/or advisory fees received by the Adviser or its affiliates from Dhandho Holdings. Such fees are not negotiable.

B. Timing of Advisory Allocation

With respect to the Pabrai Funds, the advisory allocation due to the Adviser (if any) from each Client is allocated to the Adviser as follows. Advisory allocations are paid by Clients in arrears, cannot be paid in advance and are deducted from Client's assets, if applicable.

The Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P.: Annually on June 30 and on the day immediately preceding (i) a new or existing investment by an underlying investor in The Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P., and (ii) any withdrawal by a Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P. investor of all or any portion of such Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P. investor's investment in excess of $25,000.

Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd.: On the day immediately preceding (i) a new or existing investment by an underlying investor in Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. and (ii) any withdrawal by a Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. investor of all or any portion of such Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd. investor's investment in excess of $25,000.

The Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P.: On the last day of each fiscal quarter and on the day immediately preceding (i) a new or existing investment by an underlying investor in The Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P., and (ii) any withdrawal by a Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P. investor of all or any portion of such Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P. investor's investment in excess of $25,000.

For Dhandho Holdings, the management fees (if any) are calculated quarterly but paid annually and deducted from the Client's assets.

C. Additional Fees and Expenses

Each Client may pay the costs and operating expenses incurred in the operation and administration of its account, including fees of third-party administrators, accounting, legal, auditing and all investment expenses, such as brokerage commissions, custodial fees, bank service fees, interest on margin accounts and other indebtedness, if any, and other reasonable expenses related to the purchase, sale or transmittal of Client assets. Clients also bear the costs and expenses associated with their organization. For further information regarding additional expenses incurred, please refer to the relevant Client's private placement memorandum and/or organizational documents.

D. Prepayment of Fees

See Item 5.B.

E. Additional Compensation and Conflicts of Interest

Neither the Adviser nor any of its supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products. Through its subsidiary Dhandho Funds LLC ("Dhandho Funds"), Dhandho Holdings has extended interest-bearing loans to employees of Dhandho Funds. This creates a conflict of interest due to a risk of Dhandho Holdings not being paid back and the ramifications to investors of Dhandho Holdings. To mitigate these risks, a note has been established with clear and concise terms, the loan has been made a recourse loan collateralized by units of Dhandho Holdings owned by the employees, and the amounts are not excessive by which to create a financial burden on Dhandho Holdings.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

See Item 5A above. As of the date hereof, the Adviser is potentially entitled to performance-based allocations from each Pabrai Fund. The Adviser and its supervised persons manage Clients that are charged performance-based fees and management fees, however, the Clients have different investment objectives and therefore do not impose a conflict to the Adviser.

Item 7: Types of Clients

The Adviser provides investment management services to private pooled investment vehicles. The offering documents and/or advisory agreement of each Client may set minimum amounts for investment by prospective investors in such Clients. These minimum amounts may be waived by the Adviser.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

For the Pabrai Funds, the Adviser pursues proprietary long-value investment strategies and invests each Client's assets in a portfolio of securities issued by and traded on U.S. and non-U.S. national securities exchanges and well-recognized established financial capital markets. The Adviser may invest or trade in all types of equity and debt securities including common and preferred stock, debt securities convertible into common or preferred stock or other types of securities, bonds, notes, zero coupon bonds, fixed income securities, options and investment company securities. In addition, from time to time, the Adviser invests Client capital in short-term instruments including, but not limited to, commercial paper, bank certificates of deposit, U.S. Treasury Bills and similar investments.

For Dhandho Holdings, the Adviser may invest with the same strategies as Pabrai Funds. In addition, the Adviser may invest in leveraged and unleveraged controlling interests ("Portfolio Company Acquisitions") consisting of at least a majority of the voting securities or assets of one or more privately held businesses. The Adviser may also make additional investments in relation to the privately held businesses through loans and equity contributions or additional equity interests. Dhandho Holdings may also invest in marketable securities offered to the Pabrai Funds, which presents a potential conflict of interest; this is mitigated by the Adviser's allocation procedures to prevent any one account from being systematically favored.

Risks Relating to Investment Strategies

A potential investor or Investor in a Client managed by the Adviser should review the offering memorandum for such Client for a more detailed discussion of risks.

Market Risks

Clients will be exposed significantly to all of the risks of investing in securities, including the risk that significant changes in the securities markets may adversely affect performance of their account. Therefore, there is a risk that Investors in a Client may not profit from their investment or that they may lose some or all of their investment.

Minimal Restrictions on Concentrations of Investments

The Adviser is generally not restricted with respect to the amount of Client assets that it can invest in any particular industry or in the percentage of Client assets that may be invested in any particular security. Therefore, each Client may be exposed to greater risk than would otherwise be the case if the Adviser were required to ensure additional portfolio diversification for its Clients.

Lack of Diversification of Investments

Client portfolios will not generally be diversified among a wide range of issuers, industries or areas. Accordingly, the investment portfolio of a Client may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Adviser were required to maintain a wide diversification among investment areas, securities and types of securities and other instruments on behalf of such Client.

Lack of Liquidity

Client assets may, at any given time, consist of significant amounts of securities and other financial instruments or obligations which are thinly traded or for which no market exists and/or which are restricted as to their transferability under applicable securities laws. The sale of any such investments may be possible only at substantial discounts and it may be extremely difficult to accurately value any such investments.

Small Cap Stocks

At any given time, Client assets may be invested in smaller sized companies of a less seasoned nature whose securities are traded in the over-the-counter market. These "secondary" securities often involve significantly greater risks than the securities of larger, better-known companies.

Portfolio Turnover

The Adviser will purchase and sell securities at such times as it deems in the best interest of each Client and is not restricted with respect to the amount of portfolio turnover in any Client's account. To the extent that the Adviser trades securities on behalf of a Client for the short - term, such Client's portfolio turnover rate can be expected to increase. The turnover rate may vary from year to year, and at different times during the same year, and may also be affected by such Client's cash requirements. A high turnover rate involves correspondingly greater brokerage commissions and expenses which must be borne directly by the Client and ultimately by its Investors.

Certain Risks Specific to Portfolio Company Acquisitions

Dhandho Holdings' ability to successfully execute Portfolio Company Acquisitions will be impacted by a number of factors, including the ability to identify acquisition candidates. The process of integrating acquired businesses into Dhandho Holdings' existing operations may result in unforeseen operating difficulties and may require additional financial resources and attention. In addition, Dhandho Holdings may not be able to realize the anticipated benefits from Portfolio Company Acquisitions. Achieving those benefits depends on the timely, efficient and successful execution of a number of post-acquisition events, including integrating the acquired business into Dhandho Holdings. Factors that could affect Dhandho Holdings' ability to achieve these benefits include:

- if Dhandho Holdings pays too much to purchase portfolio companies;
- if Dhandho Holdings' due diligence process is not sufficient to identify all material liabilities with respect to the business;
- new liabilities may arise that may diminish the value of the acquired portfolio companies;
- difficulties in integrating and managing personnel, financial reporting and other systems used by acquired portfolio companies;
- failure of acquired portfolio companies to perform in accordance with expectations;
- failure to achieve anticipated synergies;
- the loss of customers of acquired portfolio companies; and
- the loss of key managers of acquired portfolio companies.

If acquired portfolio companies do not operate as anticipated, it could materially impact Dhandho Holdings' business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, acquired portfolio companies may operate in industries in which the Adviser has little or no experience. In such instances, Dhandho Holdings will be highly dependent on existing managers and employees to manage those businesses, and the loss of any key managers or employees of the acquired portfolio company could have a material adverse effect on Dhandho Holdings' financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and liquidity.

The indemnification provisions of acquisition agreements by which Dhandho Holdings acquires portfolio companies may not fully protect Dhandho Holdings and may result in unexpected liabilities.

The Adviser has the authority, acting in its sole discretion, to issue additional limited partnership interests in Dhandho Holdings in consideration for some or all of the purchase price for Portfolio Company Acquisitions and/or follow-on investments. Although the Adviser will set the prices for all such additional limited partnership interests in good faith, any such issuances may lead to significant dilution to the existing limited partners of Dhandho Holdings.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to a Client's or prospective client's evaluation of the Adviser's advisory business or the integrity of the Adviser's management.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

A. Broker-Dealer Registration Status

The Adviser and its management persons are not registered as broker-dealers and do not have any application pending to register with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") as a broker-dealer or registered representative of a broker-dealer.

B. Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or Commodity Trading Adviser Registration Status

The Adviser and its management persons are not registered as, and do not have any application to register as, a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, commodity trading adviser or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

C. Material Relationships or Arrangements with Industry Participants

The Adviser is affiliated with Dhandho Funds, an investment advisor sharing the same office and controlling persons as the Adviser. Dhandho Funds is an adviser to an exchange-traded fund. Investors or prospective investors of the Private Funds may be recommended to the exchanged-traded fund managed by Dhandho Funds. This presents a potential conflict due to the financial incentive to recommend services to an affiliated adviser. Clients and investors are not under any obligation to invest with any of the Private Funds or the exchange-traded fund. The fees paid are separate and distinct between the two Advisers.

The Adviser manages several Clients, each of which is a private pooled investment vehicle. In addition, the Adviser may in the future establish, sponsor and become affiliated with other pooled investment vehicles and companies that have investment programs that are similar or substantially similar to the investment program of its current Clients. As a result of the foregoing, the Adviser and its personnel may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and resources between Clients, in allocating investments among Clients and other entities, and in effecting transactions between Clients and other entities, including ones in which the Adviser or its personnel may have a financial interest. Accordingly, the Adviser will devote as much of its time and will allocate the time and resources of its operations team to its Clients as in its judgment the conduct of each Client's account reasonably requires.

In addition, generally, the Adviser exercises investment responsibility on behalf of, or directly or indirectly purchases, sells, holds or otherwise deals with, any portfolio investment for the account of multiple Clients and multiple businesses. Neither Clients nor their Investors will have any right to participate in any manner in any profits or income earned or derived by or accruing for the Adviser from the conduct of any business or from any transaction in investments effected by the Adviser for any account other than its own.

To address these potential conflicts of interests in its material relationships, the Adviser has adopted policies and procedures, including a Code of Ethics and allocation procedures. For a more detailed discussion of the Adviser's Code of Ethics and allocations and conflicts of interest policies, please see Item 11.

D. Material Conflicts of Interest Relating to Other Investment Advisers

Not Applicable

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

The Adviser is committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct. In furtherance thereof, the Adviser's chief compliance officer ("CCO") is charged with the implementation of the Adviser's code of ethics (the "Code of Ethics"). The Code of Ethics specifies and prohibits certain types of transactions deemed to create actual conflicts of interest, the potential for conflicts, or the appearance of conflicts, and establishes general guidelines for the conduct of the Adviser's personnel as well as clearance and/or reporting requirements and enforcement procedures.

In recognition of the trust and confidence placed in the Adviser by Investors in each Client, and to give effect to the Adviser's belief that its operations should be directed to the benefit of the Clients, the Adviser adopted the following general principles to guide the actions of its employees:

- The interests of the Clients are paramount. All employees must conduct themselves and their operations to give maximum effect to this tenet by assiduously placing the interests of the Clients before their own.
- All permitted personal transactions in securities by employees must be accomplished so as to avoid the appearance of a conflict of interest on the part of such personnel with the interests of the Clients.
- All employees must avoid actions or activities that allow a person to profit or benefit from his or her position with respect to the Clients or that otherwise improperly bring into question the person's independence or judgment.
- All employees must report any violation(s) of the Code of Ethics or inappropriate conduct to the CCO.
- All employees must comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, including Federal securities laws.

The Adviser requires that all Adviser personnel avoid any relationship or activity that might impair, or even appear to impair, such individual's ability to make objective and fair decisions when performing job functions. The Code of Ethics prohibits Adviser personnel from using Adviser property or information for personal gain or personally taking for themselves any opportunity that is discovered through their Adviser position. The Code of Ethics further requires that employees disclose any situation, including situations pertaining to the employee's family members, which reasonably could be expected to give rise to a conflict of interest. The Code of Ethics also contains general prohibitions against fraud, deceit and manipulation, as well as additional restrictions and requirements regarding gifts, entertainment and outside activities.

The Adviser has adopted a securities trading policy that sets forth, among other things, policies and procedures regarding material nonpublic information and proprietary Adviser information, and employee accounts and trading. The policies and procedures containedin the securities trading policy are designed to (a) provide for the proper handling of both material nonpublic information about companies or other issuers and proprietary informationof the Adviser, (b) prevent violations of laws and regulations prohibiting the misuse of material nonpublic information about companies or other issuers and/or proprietary information of the Adviser, and (c) avoid situations that might create an appearance that material nonpublic information about companies or other issuers or proprietary information of the Adviser has been misused. In furtherance thereof, employees are prohibited from misusing material nonpublic information and/or nonpublic proprietary information.

The Adviser will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or Investor of a Private Fund or prospective client or investor in a Private Fund upon request.

Adviser personnel are required to certify to their compliance with the Code of Ethics, including the securities compliance policy, on an annual basis.

B. Securities in Which the Adviser or a Related Person Has a Material Financial Interest

As General Partner or manager to the Private Funds, the Adviser has a material financial interest in recommending investors to the Private Funds. Investors must be, at a minimum, a "qualified client" or "qualified purchaser" to invest in the Private Funds. The offering documents of each Private Fund include all the risks and potential conflicts in investing in the respective Private Fund.

C. Investing in Securities That the Adviser or a Related Person Recommends to Clients

See Item 11A

D. Conflicts of Interest Created by Contemporaneous Trading

The Adviser may serve as investment advisers to other client accounts and conduct investment activities for their own accounts. Such other entities, clients or accounts may have investment objectives or may implement investment strategies similar to those of a Client. The Adviser may also have investments in certain Clients.

The Adviser may give advice or take action with respect to other Clients that differs from the advice given with respect to any one Client. To the extent a particular investment is suitable for multiple Clients, such investments will be allocated between Clients pro rata based on assets under management or in some other manner which the Adviser determines is fair and equitable under the circumstances to all Clients.

As a result of the foregoing, the Adviser and its principal may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and activity between Clients, in allocating investments among Clients and in effecting transactions for Clients, including ones in which the Adviser may have a greater financial interest.

Although the Adviser will attempt to allocate investment opportunities in a manner which is in the best interests of all Clients, and in general will allocate investment opportunities believed to be appropriate for Clients among Clients on a pro rata basis in proportion to the relative net worth of each, it is possible that an investment opportunity which comes to the attention of the Adviser will not be allocated to multiple Clients, or that one or more Clients may be unable to participate in such investment opportunity or participate only on a limited basis. In addition, there may be circumstances under which the Adviser will consider participation by certain Clients in investment opportunities in which the Adviser does not intend to invest, or intends to invest only on a limited basis, on behalf of other Clients. The Adviser evaluates investments for each Client based on numerous factors which may be relevant in determining whether a particular situation or strategy is appropriate and feasible for such Client at a particular time, including the nature of the investment opportunity taken in the context of the other investment or regulatory limitations on such Client and the transaction costs involved. Because these considerations may differ for each Client in the context of any particular investment opportunity, investment activities of Clients may differ considerably from time to time.

The Adviser uses its best efforts in connection with the purposes and objectives of each Client and will devote as much of its time and effort to the affairs of such Client as may, in its judgment, be necessary to accomplish the investment purposes of such Client. The Adviser (and its principals, affiliates or employees) may conduct any other business, including any business within the securities industry, whether or not such business is in competition with a Client. Consequently, the Adviser (or its principals, affiliates or employees) may act as investment adviser for other clients, may have, make and maintain investments in its own name or through other entities, and may serve as an officer, director, consultant, partner or stockholder of one or more investment funds, securities firms or advisory firms. It may not always be possible or consistent with the investment objectives of such persons or entities and of a Client for the same investment positions to be taken or liquidated at the same time or at the same price.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Considered in Selecting or Recommending Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

The Adviser has complete discretion, without obtaining specific Client consent, to (i) buy or sell securities, (ii) determine the amount of the securities to be bought or sold, (iii) select the broker or dealer to be used in such purchase or sale and (iv) negotiate the commission rates paid in connection with such purchase or sale.

The Adviser will effect transactions with brokers that (with respect to U.S. securities) are registered with the SEC and are members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The Adviser will select brokers on the basis of their ability to provide best execution (including both the trade price and commission).

1. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits.

The Adviser will attempt to negotiate the lowest available commission rates commensurate with the assurance of reliable, high quality brokerage services. However, the Adviser may select brokers that charge a higher commission or fee than another broker would have charged for effecting the same transaction, provided that the selection of a broker will be made on the basis of best execution, taking into consideration various factors, including commission rates, reliability, financial responsibility, strength of the broker and the ability of the broker to efficiently execute transactions, the broker's facilities, and the broker's provision or payment of the costs of research and other services or property that are of benefit to the Adviser or other Clients to which the Adviser provides investment services, provided, further, that the Adviser may be influenced in its selection of brokers by their provision of other services, including, without limitation, capital introduction, marketing assistance, consulting with respect to technology, operations, equipment and office space, and other services or items. Such execution services, research, investment opportunities or other services may be deemed to be "soft dollars"; however, the Adviser has not entered into written soft dollar arrangements or taken advantage of any soft dollar benefits. The provision by a broker of research and other services and property to the Adviser creates an incentive for the Adviser to select such broker since the Adviser would not have to pay for such research and other services and property as opposed to solely seeking the most favorable execution for a Client. Any research, services or property provided by a broker may benefit any Client of the Adviser and such benefits may not be proportionate to commission dollars related to the provision of such research, services or property.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals.

As discussed above, subject to best execution, the Adviser may consider, among other things, capital introduction, marketing assistance, consulting with respect to technology, operations, equipment and office space, and other services or items in selecting broker-dealers for Client transactions. The Adviser does not receive Client referrals in exchange for brokerage business.

3. Directed Brokerage.

The Adviser does not recommend, request or require that a Client direct the Adviser to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer.

4. Broker.

The Adviser may select one or more firms to serve as broker to hold the funds and securities of, and execute transactions for, any of the Private Funds, consistent with best execution. In addition to custody and execution, these brokers may provide other core functions or value-added items to the Adviser and Private Funds.

The services of the broker will be reviewed on both a quarterly and annual basis to ensure best possible execution for Client accounts. Quarterly, the CCO or designee will review the commissions of the broker as part of its annual review for accuracy. Quarterly, the CCO or designee will review the executed trades as compared to the trade directionsgiven to the broker and ensure trades were executed at limits and quantities as directed. Annually, the Adviser will review the qualitative factors for the broker ranking them froma scale of 1 to 5 to support the Adviser's review of best execution. Currently, these are the qualitative factors for evaluating the broker, which may change over time:

a. Quality of services provided;

b. Ability to work with the investment styles of the Adviser;

c. Effectiveness of communication;

d. Ability to execute and settle trades; and

e. Ability to maintain confidentiality.

B. Aggregated Orders for Various Client Accounts

The Adviser does not tend to aggregate trade orders and has created a trading rotation to facilitate fair and equitable allocation among accounts. The trading rotation includes the Adviser's Clients as well as accounts managed by its related adviser Dhandho Funds. Each account or trading group will have a priority trading date so that no one account or trading group is systematically favored or disfavored. In December of every year, the Adviser will pre-determine the order that will be followed on each trading date of the upcoming year.

Any exceptions to the trading rotation will be documented and most likely be events such as raising cash, investing deposits, adhering to client restrictions, etc.

For accounts which trade in a trading group, the Adviser will typically offer the purchase or sale of the same security to the smallest account first, followed by the second largest, then the third largest and continue in that fashion. The logic here is that if the Adviser is unable to buy the entire target amount (price moves up, for example), the Adviser would like it to have the greatest impact on at least one account by being a meaningful percentage of assets. The account which is the smallest may change over time and, therefore, change in the rotation of the security offering. Sometimes it is an advantage to go first, and sometimes it is a disadvantage because the price may fluctuate.

Although the Adviser will generally follow the trade rotation policy described above, final trade rotation is at the discretion of the Adviser.

C. Trade Errors

Trade errors and allocation errors may occur as a result of mistakes made on the part of an executing broker, or mistakes on the part of Adviser personnel including, but not limited to, portfolio managers, traders and operations staff. To the extent that errors occur, the Adviser maintains trade error and allocation error policies and procedures. In accordance with such procedures, trade errors are: (i) corrected by the Adviser as soon after discovery as practicable; and (ii) corrected in a manner whereby the Adviser minimizes any profit and loss as a result of trade errors. The Adviser strives to correct all trade errors prior to settlement. Any profit that results from a trade error is left in the account of the applicable Client. Broker-dealers ("brokers") that cause trade errors as a result of their own mistakes should be responsible for any losses that result from such errors. The Adviser does not compensate brokers with soft dollars for absorbing trade errors. Should an error be made with regard to the allocation of a particular investment opportunity, the details of the error and its resolution are memorialized in the Adviser's books and records.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Investors receive audited year-end financial statements annually and annual valuation reports based on actual trading results.

Net asset values of all of the funds are calculated and prepared by the fund administrator on a quarterly basis. Net asset value statements are provided to investors quarterly in the case of The Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P., Pabrai Investment Fund 3, Ltd., and The Pabrai Investment Fund IV, L.P., and annually in the case of Dhandho Holdings, L.P. and Dhandho Holdings Qualified Purchaser, L.P.

Investors have the right to inspect the books and records of the Client in which they are invested as described in the operational documents of such Client.

All Client accounts are reviewed regularly by the general partner or manager.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Neither the Adviser nor its related persons directly or indirectly compensate any third-party for client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Rule 206(4)-2 promulgated under the Advisers Act (the "Custody Rule") (and certain related rules and regulations under the Advisers Act) imposes certain obligations on SEC-registered investment advisers that have custody or possession of any funds or securities in which any client of such registered investment adviser has any beneficial interest. An investment adviser is deemed to have custody or possession of client funds or securities if the adviser directly or indirectly holds client funds or securities or has authority to obtain possession of them (regardless of whether the exercise of that authority or ability would be lawful).

The Adviser is required to maintain the funds and securities (except for securities that meet the privately offered securities exemption in the Custody Rule) over which it has custody with a "qualified custodian." Qualified custodians include banks, brokers, futures commission merchants and certain financial institutions.

Rule 206(4)-2 imposes on advisers with custody of clients' funds or securities certain requirements concerning reports to such clients (including underlying investors) and surprise examinations relating to such clients' funds or securities. However, an adviser need not comply with such requirements with respect to pooled investment vehicles subject to audit and delivery if each pooled investment vehicle (i) is audited at least annually by an independent public accountant and (ii) distributes its audited financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to its investors, all limited partners, members or other owners within 120 days (180 days in the applicable case of fund of fund adviser) of its fiscal year-end. The Adviser relies upon this audit exception with respect to the Clients which are pooled investment vehicles. The Adviser has arranged to have an independent public accountant conduct an annual surprise examination for an employee profit sharing plan for which the Adviser is deemed to have custody.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

The Adviser has been appointed as the investment manager or general partner of each Client with discretionary trading and investment authorization over each Client's account. The Adviser has full discretionary authority with respect to investment decisions, and its advice with respect to each Client is made in accordance with the investment objectives and guidelines as set forth in such Client's respective private placement memorandum. The Adviser assumes discretionary authority or manages the portfolios of each Client through the authority granted to the Adviser by such Client through execution of an investment management agreement and/or through the organizational documents of such Client. Investors in each Client are required to review the organizational documents of such Client and to sign a subscription agreement before investing in such Client.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

The Adviser is committed to voting proxies in a manner consistent with the best interest of the Clients. In cases where the Adviser believes that a material conflict of interest may arise due to business, personal or family relationships of the Adviser, the Adviser will take such steps as necessary to ensure that its voting decision is based on the best interests of the Client and not prompted by any conflict of interest. The Client or an investor cannot direct the Adviser's vote in a particular solicitation. Investors may obtain information from the Adviser about how it voted securities by contacting the Adviser at its contact information includedon the cover page. Investors may also obtain a copy of proxy voting policies and procedures upon request.

The Adviser has entered into a formal agreement with an underlying holding in which certain of the Private Funds own a significant interest. The terms of this formal agreement require the Adviser to vote with the underlying holding's Board of Directors' recommendations on all proxies for that holding held in The Pabrai Investment Fund II, L.P. This presents a conflict of interest given the fact that the underlying holding is determining how the Adviser votes its proxy which benefits the interest of the underlying holding and its Board of Directors. The Adviser believes this is in the best interest of the relevant Private Funds because it aligns their ownership in this holding with the Board of Directors.

Class Actions and Other Shareholder Actions

Shareholder action may be required or solicited with respect to securities held by the Private Funds on other matters including those relating to class actions (including matters relating to opting in or opting out of a class, and approving class settlements), bankruptcy or reorganizations. The Adviser shall be responsible for determining whether it is in the best interest of each Private Fund to participate in any such action.

Abstaining from Voting or Affirmatively Not Voting

The Adviser may abstain from voting or decide not to vote if the Adviser determines that abstaining or not voting is in the best interests of the applicable Private Fund. Factors that may be considered in making such a determination may include the costs associated with exercising the proxy (e.g. travel or translation costs) and any legal restrictions on trading resulting from the exercise of a proxy. The fact that the Private Funds hold a small percentage of the outstanding voting securities of a company is not a sufficient reason for not voting a proxy.

Item 18: Financial Information

The Adviser does not require, nor solicit, prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. The Adviser does not have any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. The Adviser has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

Privacy Notice

Dalal Street, LLC & Dhandho Funds, LLC

This Privacy Notice describes the policies of Dalal Street, LLC, and Dhandho Funds, LLC (collectively, the "Adviser") with respect to non-public personal information of its separate account clients and the investors in the Funds managed by the Adviser (such persons, "Advisory Clients"), prospective Advisory Clients and former Advisory Clients. These policies apply to individuals only and are subject to change at any time. The Adviser collects and maintains non-public personal information about Advisory Clients as follows:

(1) Information that the Adviser receives in subscription agreements, investor questionnaires and other forms which Advisory Clients complete and submit to the Adviser, such as names, addresses, phone numbers, social security numbers, and employment, asset, income and other household information;

(2) Information that the Adviser receives and maintains relating to the net asset value of an Advisory Client's account or investment in a Fund, as applicable;

(3) Information that the Adviser receives and maintains relating to an Advisory Client's new issue and other securities transactions with and through the Adviser and its affiliates; and

(4) Information that the Adviser receives about an Advisory Client from the Advisory Client's purchaser representative, financial advisor, investment consultant or other financial institution with whom the Adviser has a relationship and/or whom Advisory Clients may have authorized to provide such information to the Adviser.

The Adviser does not disclose any non-public personal information about its Advisory Clients or former Advisory Clients except as may be required or permitted by law or at the request of a governmental authority. The Adviser may also disclose information about an Advisory Client to its affiliates, and to the following types of third parties:

(1) Financial service providers to the Funds;

(2) Legal representatives of the Adviser or a Fund, such as its counsel, accountants and auditors;

(3) Certain non-affiliated parties who perform marketing services for a Fund or with whom the Adviser has entered into joint marketing agreements; and

(4) Persons acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity on behalf of an individual Advisory Client, such as an IRA custodian or trustee of a grantor trust.

On all occasions when it is necessary for the Adviser to share an Advisory Client's personal information with non-affiliated companies, the Adviser will require that such information only be used for the limited purpose for which it is shared and will advise these companies not to further share such information with others except to fulfill that limited purpose.

The Adviser takes its responsibility to protect the privacy and confidentiality of its Advisory Clients' information very seriously. The Adviser maintains appropriate physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to guard its Advisory Clients' non-public personal information. If the Adviser changes its privacy policies to permit it or its affiliates to share additional information the Adviser has about its Advisory Clients or to permit disclosures to additional types of parties, the Advisory Clients will be notified in advance, and, if required by law, will be given the opportunity to opt out of such additional disclosure and to direct the Adviser not to share such information with such parties.

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Privacy Notice

For EU Clients

Dalal Street LLC & Dhandho Funds LLC
(Collectively "Adviser")

We are sensitive to the privacy concerns of our current and former individual limited partners and clients. We have a long standing policy of protecting and respecting the privacy of our current and former clients. This privacy notice (the "Privacy Notice") sets out our policy on when and how we use your personal information, meaning any information that can directly or indirectly identify you ("Personal Data"). Please read this Privacy Notice carefully to understand what we do with your Personal Data. For European Union data protection purposes, Adviser is the data controller.

Personal Data we may collect:

The types of Personal Data we collect about clients typically includes:

- your name, address, email address, date of birth, social security number and/or tax id number, assets income, investment experience and/or identification documents in order to know our clients;
- accredited investor or qualified purchaser status pertaining to investor eligibility standards;
- information about transactions with Adviser, including wire instructions, bank details, and account activity; and
- any other information required by applicable laws.

Adviser collects this information through limited subscription documents and related forms, and communications with Adviser employees. Failure to provide us with this Personal Data may affect how we provide our services to you.

How we use your Personal Data

We will use Personal Data provided to us by clients in the normal course of business and where basic law exists for purposes such as the execution of subscription/investment management agreements, the legitimate interests of Adviser and to enable Adviser in complying with its legal and regulatory obligations. In this regard, client information is used for a number of purposes, including:

- To initiate and process the investment services you request;
- To perform our obligations under anti-money laundering and other laws, such as Foreign Account Tax Compliant Act;
- To ensure our records are complete and accurate;
- To provide the specific services agreed by you;
- To undertake performance analysis and management of the business;
- To give you information that you request from us and to improve our services;
- To notify you about changes to our services;
- To inform you of events that may be of interest to you and
- Any relevant testing or statistical analysis as appropriate

Less commonly, we may process this type of Personal Data where it is needed in relation to legal claims or where it is needed to protect your interests (or someone else's interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent.

Lawful basis of processing

We will only process your information as long as we have relevant lawful basis to do so. All of the information collected and detailed in the sections above is processed to provide you with the contractual services you have requested from Adviser unless stated otherwise in the 'Personal Data we may collect' section, or if you have provided us with adequate consent to process your information for other purposes.

If we choose to process your information under the lawful basis of legitimate interests, we will always inform you of our legitimate business interest and your right to object. If you choose to access your Personal Data under the rights afforded to you by data protection legislation, we will always inform you of the lawful basis under which we process your information.

Data retention

We will only retain your Personal Data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the Personal Data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your Personal Data, the purposes for which we process your Personal Data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

How we protect your Personal Data:

To protect your Personal Data from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with regulations of the US SEC, applicable data protection laws, and other pertinent regulatory bodies. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings that are generally accepted in the industry to protect Personal Data.

Personal Data we disclose:

Adviser does not disclose or sell Personal Data about our current or former clients to any third parties, except to trusted third parties so designated by Adviser, who assist us in conducting our business, or servicing you ("Trusted Third Parties"). We may transmit your Personal Data to Trusted Third Parties. We will only transmit your Personal Data to Trusted Third Parties following their agreement and commitment to keep all Personal Data confidential. This Personal Data is given to Trusted Third Parties based on our instructions and in compliance with our Privacy Notice and any other confidentiality and security measures. We may also release your Personal Data when we believe such release is necessary to comply with applicable laws, enforce our policies, or protect Adviser's legal rights, property, or safety, or those of third parties.

Transfer of Personal Data outside the EU:

The Adviser may transfer and store Personal Data in servers located outside of the EU. Such Personal Data maintained outside the EU will be transferred and processed in accordance with applicable data protection laws. By submitting Personal Data to the Adviser, each client consents to that transfer of their Personal Data to Adviser and other recipients (such as Trusted Third Parties) as described in this notice that may be located in countries outside the EU.

Your rights:

Where clients are located in EU, they may, subject to applicable restrictions and exceptions:

- request access to, rectification or reassure of their Personal Data;
- request that the processing of their Personal Data be restricted;
- object to the processing of their Personal Data; and
- request a copy of their Personal Data to be provided to them or a third party.

Clients have the right to issue a complaint against the Adviser with a supervisory authority. Please note that clients have a right to object the processing of their personal information where that processing is carried out for Adviser's legitimate interest. You can always opt-out of any of these communications by contacting the number below.

Questions or concerns:

If you have questions or concerns about our use of the Personal Data you provide, or if you are a client in the EU that wishes to exercise your rights, please contact us Kimberly Engleman at +1 512-999-7110.

Business Continuity Plan

Dalal Street LLC and Dhandho Funds LLC

Dalal Street, LLC and Dhandho Funds LLC (the "Firm") has developed a Business Continuity Plan on how we will respond to events that significantly disrupt our business. Since the timing and impact of disasters and disruptions is unpredictable, we will have to be flexible in responding to actual events as they occur. With that in mind, we are providing you with this information on our business continuity plan.

Contacting Us – If after a significant business disruption you cannot contact us as you usually do at +1.512.999.7110 or mpabrai@pabraifunds.com, you should contact our administrator, Liccar at c/o WeWork, 222 S. Riverside Plaza, Suite 1500, Chicago, IL 60606, phone +1.312-506-2048.

Our Business Continuity Plan – We plan to quickly recover and resume business operations after a significant business disruption and respond by safeguarding our employees and property, making a financial and operational assessment, protecting the firm's books and records, and allowing our customers to transact business. In short, our business continuity plan is designed to permit our firm to resume operations as quickly as possible, given the scope and severity of the significant business disruption.

Our business continuity plan addresses: data backup and recovery; all mission critical systems; financial and operational assessments; alternative communications with investors, employees, and regulators; alternate physical location of employees; critical supplier, contractor, bank and counter-party impact; regulatory reporting; and assuring our customers prompt access to their funds and securities if we are unable to continue our business.

Varying Disruptions – Significant business disruptions can vary in their scope, such as only our firm, a single building housing our firm, the business district where our firm is located, the city where we are located, or the whole region. Within each of these areas, the severity of the disruption can also vary from minimal to severe. In a disruption to only our firm or a building housing our firm, we will transfer our operations to a local site when needed and expect to recover and resume business within a reasonable period. In a disruption affecting our business district, city, or region, we will transfer our operations to a site outside of the affected area. In either situation, we plan to continue in business, and notify you through an email or a posting on our website (www.pabraifunds.com or www.dhandhofunds.com) on how to contact us. If the significant business disruption is so severe that it prevents us from remaining in business, we will assure our customer's prompt access to their funds and securities.

For more information – If you have questions about our business continuity planning, you can contact us at +1.512.999.7110.
